We find in the Louisville Courier-Journal the following amusing account of one of the recreations of the delegates to the meeting of the Western Associated Press during their excursion to Mammoth Cave:

On the way to the Cave there had been considerable quiet and good humored banter on the subject of physical strength and powers. There were a few in the company who had good reason to be proud of their muscular development. Halstead, of the Cincinnati Commercial, for instance, who would probably turn the scale at 200; and Holloway, of the Indianapolis Journal, a solid and substantial man of the press. So, when the fun began, a wrestling match was suggested. It was proposed to back Halstead against Holloway for heavy weights, and McCulloch, of the Cincinnati Enquirer, against some other gentleman of his size and weight. There was some difficulty in arranging this, however, and it was, by common consent, abandoned in favor of a foot race, to be made around a track about seventy-five yards long. Pool selling for this race commenced at once, W. McCulloch acting as auctioneer. The first choice was bought for five dollars by Halstead, who named Holloway as his entry. Holloway in turn entered Halstead as the second choice, bought for three dollars. For the third choice, Smith, of the Gazette paid two dollars, and entered McCulloch, of the Enquirer. The other entries were: Mr. Peto, an English gentleman, who was one of the guests; Colonel Stoddard Johnson, of the Frankfort Yeoman, and Mr. Underwood, of the Courier-Journal. The racers were immediately put in line, and all the arrangements for a start were perfected. Three ladies were suggested as judges, but McCulloch objected on the ground that they would decide, irrespective of pure merit, and in favor of the best looking man. Finally, Mr. Colman, of Missouri, Mr. Beckham, of Dayton, and Mr. Adams, of Kentucky, were chosen, and agreed to act fairly and impartially. At the word "go" the start was made—quite a fair one, except for slight attempts at squeezing each other out of place. Halstead started finely, closely followed by Holloway. "Mack," however, took the lead in the first quarter, and kept it half way round, when he was passed by Halstead, and, as he asserts, elbowed by Holloway to the extent of a "foul." Peto, who is well supplied with legs, made a heroic struggle for the lead, but failed to make it. He seemed determined to get his nose across the line sometime ahead of his body, and in trying to do so fell flat on his face and rolled over three times in front of the judges' stand. Next came Holloway, who, when just about to win, made a misstep and came gracelessly down, to the utter bedaubment of his clothing. Col. Johnson, finding himself sure to be distanced, took a short cut across, and even then failed to get in. Perhaps the most interesting incident of the race was the jump of a large and unfriendly-looking dog right into the middle of the racers just as they were trying to do their level best. Towser barked violently, and there were indications at one time of his disposition to attach himself to somebody's pantaloons. Mr. Underwood came up with good speed in the rear of McCulloch, but not in time to head off Halstead, who was clearly the victor. They came in on the following order: Halstead, McCulloch, Underwood, Johnson, Holloway and Peto were still on the ground. The race was given to Halstead but McCullch claimed a foul on the ground that he had been elbowed off the track, and that the dog had made a grab at his breeches, against which he was compelled to defend himself. The judges heard the claim and retired for consultation, but they astonished everybody a few minutes later when they announced their decision to be that the race was not a fair one, but must be run over again, and that they had decided to divide the money among themselves.

It was then announced that Kentucky would name a man against the world. Mr. Peto, of England, promptly accepted the challenge, and Hickman, of the Kentucky Templar was named. The start was given, and a fierce struggle for supremacy took place, until the home-stretch was reached, when Peto again lost his footing and went to grass heavily, lacerating his trowsers badly, and Hickman came in an easy winner.

McCulloch was still eager for the fray, and was pitted against Bickman of the Dayton Journal. The betting was about even on this race, both entries having many friends. One enthusiastic gentleman offered odds on Bickman, saying that legs were bound to win. The race was closely contested to the close, but the lithe little Mack came in by a neck.

The Pineries—Information Concerning the Indians—A Word to Emigrants from Pennsylvania—Law and Order in Colorado, etc., etc.

[Correspondence Pittsburgh Gazette.]
GOMER'S MILLS, DOUGLASS, CO.,
COLORADO, May 28, 1870.

Agreeable to promise, I will try and let you know for the benefit of your thousands of readers, what this part of the country is, and, for the many in Allegheny county who contemplate coming West, where to apply for information.

The point at which I am now stopping is about fifty miles South of Denver, and is a busy spot on account of the ties and lumber being got out for the Kansas Pacific Railway. You can form some idea of the number of men employed in the pineries when I tell you that five hundred ox teams are now employed hauling to points from sixty to ninety miles from here, and some two hundred extra teams are coming on at once. The Indians have given so much trouble that it has caused a rise in price of one-eighth of a cent per mile for hauling, making now 1½ cents per mile for carrying ties. As there is no timber short of three hundred and fifty miles east of this, you can form some idea of the value of these pineries to this railway. The Indians are making it cost in every way, loss of stock, delays consequent thereon, arms to men, ammunition, etc., apart from complicating business generally. A few words as to the Indians. You have no doubt had the benefit of all the news from various points and as I have not seen a paper since the troubles commenced I don't know what has been said. Some twenty two men have been killed between this point and Kit Carson Station; how many are wounded no one can tell. We have here three drivers wounded with arrows within the last week. They were driving mule teams or they would not have been attacked. They don't disturb ox trains as they don't want the cattle. But only yesterday they put an arrow in a herd boy, only eight miles from here, and drove off two milch cows which they wanted for beef no doubt.

They are roaming around all over the country and are all so well mounted that they are hard to catch. This morning a few of them were in sight of this point, and we may have a visit at any hour.

They are very bold and mean business. The arrows indicate different tribes. Some Ute arrows have been picked up, but it is claimed the arrows were in the possession of the Sioux who used them. The Utes claim to be friendly and have offered to pursue the enemy. The United States cavalry, of various commands, are out after the Indians, but the settlers have not much faith in their doing much as their hands appear to be tied with too much red tape of the Peace Commission. Mr. Romero, who is hauling from this camp, lost seventy-seven mules by the savages. One of them rode right into the herd and seized the old bell mare and the herd naturally followed her. They got off with the whole lot. Where the troubles will end no one can tell. The completion of this road will do more towards settling the question than all the troops they can send against them, and make it much cheaper for the Government in every respect.

The building of this road is under the control and direction of Gen. Wm. J. Palmer, who commanded the 15th Pennsylvania Cavalry during the rebellion, and he has overcome difficulties that at first seemed impossible. The road is being built from Carson to Denver at a very rapid rate: 500 fresh laborers were put on last week and more are coming. Parties who expect to try the West will find some of the most beautiful land for 125 miles west of Kansas city that can be had in the country; the prices range from $2 to $6 per acre and are sold by a payment of one-fifth down and balance in six years in five payments. Parties addressing Mr. Pratt, National Land Co., Chicago, will have maps and circulars sent them giving full information, and will get transportation much cheaper by so doing. The Kansas Pacific Railway has five millions acres open for settlers and emigrants.

I would advise Pennsylvania to try this section of Colorado, as I am satisfied it would suit them better. There is every variety of land in this section. Mountains, prarie, both flat and rolling, and any amount of most beautiful valleys with hills well timbered and good water. Lumber is cheap here and can be had at the mills for $18 per thousand. The soil is very rich, and apart from the valuable farms for raising all kind of produce, there is no better place in the whole West for all kinds of stock farming.

There is good coal out here, which with the timber, makes the locality particularly desirable for settlers, and as to health there is no ague, and no local disease whatever. The air is so pure that on killing any kind of meat you can hang it up in thin strips and dry it out in twenty-four hours.

A desperado was killed here a few weeks ago. He was determined to kill somebody, and at last went to a store for that purpose and would no doubt have succeeded, but the moment he drew his revolver at least six men fired and every ball took effect in his breast and stomach. The nearest justice held an inquest, but no information was made, the general verdict being, "Country well rid of all such rubbish."

Last night two Mexican teamsters were playfully quarreling, and one shot the other right through the left lungs. He cannot survive through the day. The justice took his deposition, and it is hard to tell whether it was intentional or not. The man who did the shooting, is a driver in one of the Railway Company's ox teams, and a party of roughs, full of Ranche whiskey, started after him to lynch him, but they did not succeed. The train men would not give him up unless to legal authority. He will be brought back here to-day.

Needle guns, Ballard, Henry and Winchester rifles are all that are used here. In my next I will give you a more complete description of this section.

Yours, &c., W.

Gray Hairs Going Down in Sorrow to the Grave.

One of our exchanges is responsible for the following highly amusing statement. Gray hairs in Wilmington must be exceedingly troublesome at this time:

"Down in Wilmington, some time ago, an old man who was very feeble was helped across a crowded street by a youth of twenty. A month afterward the old man died, and as an expression of his gratitude he left the youth forty thousand dollars. And now no old man's life is safe in Wilmington. All the young fellows have had their ambition excited, and as soon as any venerable man appears on the sidewalk a dozen chaps rush at him, grab him by the trowsers and the collar and the back hair, and try to carry him across the street, whether he wants to go or not. When he gets there a lot more fasten on him and set him back again, and then present their cards. So the old men in Wilmington are having a lively time now, and they have got to tack up the street whenever they go out for a walk. Thus far very little cash has been evolved; but all the young men study the obituary advertisements carefully, and when they see the words, at the age of seventy-six or sixty-six, or anywhere in that neighborhood, they hurry down to the office of the Register of Wills and pore over the last testament of the deceased. All this goes to show how much distress one inconsiderate action will cause."

TWO GLASSES, one filled with water, the other with ale, stood before us the other day—such incidents frequently recur to us—and while the flies attacked the ale vigorously, the water remained unmolested. A friend explained the reason, "even a fly knows what is good for his health." We forgot to say it was Fier, Dannals & Co.'s Cream Ale.

LONDON, June 6.—The Times augurs the defeat of the tariff bill in Congress. Such a result will be beneficial, because of having a tendency to modify the party ties, and hopes the revenue reformers will persevere and succeed in obtaining an executive programme.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 6.—Yesterday afternoon about one o'clock a fire broke out, which spread with alarming rapidity through the richest portion of the city. The flames were first discovered in an old building in Pera, on the north side of the Golden Horn. A strong wind was blowing at the time, and the fire quickly communicated to the adjoining buildings. The efforts of the firemen and citizens to stop the progress of the flames were fruitless, and in a few hours the residences of the English, American and Portuguese ambassadors, consulates, Naomi theatre, many churches and mosques, thousands of houses, and the richest stores and shops in the city were reduced to ashes. The loss of life was six. The falling of walls has been fearful. It is estimated that at least thirty people are killed or injured by this cause alone. The loss is incalculable. The fire at this hour, noon, is still burning fiercely, and the excitement of the people beggars description.

XLIST CONGRES.

(SECOND SESSION.)

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, June 6, 1870.

Bills were introduced and referred:

By Mr. SPENCER: Granting lands to the State of Alabama to aid in the construction of the Savannah and Memphis Railroad.

By Mr. STEWART: To prohibit contracts for servile labor.

Mr. STEWART explained that the bill was intended to apply to Chinese emigration. He said in making Coolie labor contracts Chinese contractors took advantage of the peculiar religious views of the Chinese to provide for their return to their native land, dead or alive. These contracts were for four years, and the Chinese dared not break the contract for fear that in case of death his body might not be returned to his own country. The bill would break up this Coolie system by prohibiting contracts for a longer period than six months, while it also provided for the return of Chinese to their own country. This would be long enough to enable immigrants to pay the expenses of their passage, and not long enough to make their importation, as a system, a means of profit.

The bill was referred to the Judiciary Committee.

On motion of Mr. HOWARD, the Texas Pacific Railroad bill was made a special order.

Mr. Williams' joint resolution for the increase of pay of Assistant Census Marshals was taken up amended and passed.

As amended it provides the increase shall not exceed fifty per cent of the present compensation, nor shall the entire compensation be more than eight dollars per day, exclusive of mileage, for the time actually employed—additional allowance to be made when, by reason of the sparseness of population, the compensation allowed by law is not sufficient.

Mr. PATTERSON called up the bill to repeal all existing laws authorizing the transportation and exportation of goods, wares and merchandise in bond to Mexico, overland or by inland waters. He said the Secretary of the Treasury was anxious for the passage of the bill, as it would do away with an immense amount of smuggling on the Mexican border.

Mr. CHANDLER remarked the saving to be effected by it would amount to $6,000,000 per annum.

The bill passed without debate.

The Indian appropriation bill was proceeded with and variously amended.

A proposed amendment to the rules was discussed. It provides for the termination of debate on an amendment to an appropriation bill by a two-third vote; also, that no amendment to an appropriation bill, other than such as directly related to appropriations in a bill, be received or adopted without a two-thirds vote.

Mr. TRUMBULL opposed the proposition as an attempt to introduce the rule of the previous question, which had never yet been resorted to in the Senate.

Mr. HAMLIN, while favoring the fullest discussion, was in favor of the amendment, as doing away with tiresome and unnecessary debates.

No action was taken.

Amendments reported from the Committee on Indian Affairs were adopted, appropriating $[illegible] for industrial schools among various Indian tribes, and $[illegible] for Indian service in Alaska.

Mr. DAVIS offered an amendment to give the Choctaw Indians $[illegible] worth of bonds, bearing date July 1st, 186[illegible], in execution of treaty stipulations.

Mr. [illegible] moved the bonds be those of 18[illegible].

Both amendments were rejected, on the ground that the Choctaws sided in the rebellion.

After a brief Executive session the Senate took a recess.

Evening Session.—Calendar was considered. The House joint resolution granting the right of way to the Memphis, El Paso and Pacific Railroad Company was indefinitely postponed.

The bill for the settlement of claims for [illegible] in the States in rebellion during the late war, came up.

Mr. CHANDLER moved it be passed over. Lost—11 to 32.

The pending motion to recommit, with instruction to the Committee on Claims to provide for the adjudication of claims in the Court of Claims, was rejected—15 to 27.

The question then being on the pending amendment of Mr. Williams, declaring the act to provide only for the examination and and not to create any obligation upon the government for the payment of claims, several Senators objected that the provision was superfluous, Mr. WARNER adding that it was an insult to all claimants.

Mr. WILLIAMS advocated his amendment as the specific limitation of the purpose of the bill. Without it this legislation would be the first step by Congress toward paying for all losses by the rebel States during the war. It was the first step that was fatal in that direction, and if the doors of the Treasury were now opened to them, the people of the South would bankrupt the Government.

Mr. FOWLER would regard the refusal of the Government to pay the claims of loyal men for losses of the war, by neglect of the Government, as the act of a highwayman. There was no law, human or Divine, to warrant the Government in this pillaging of its own friends.

Mr. RICE hoped the vote on the amendment would be a test upon the general question of the liability of the government upon the class of claims referred to.

Mr. EDMUNDS argued that in allowing evidence of loyalty to be shown, either by conduct or speech, the bill would permit payment for stores taken from General Lee or any other man engaged in the rebellion against the government. Any man who fought the government all day might be paid by showing he talked loyalty all night.

Mr. DRAKE considered the fatal feature of the bill the requirement upon the Quartermaster and Commissary General to pass upon a claim upon the ex parte statement of the claimant, without any opportunity to the government to be heard in the case.

Mr. NYE argued that the principle of the bill was unsound and would entail upon the government enormous liabilities.

Mr. HOWE replied the government could not evade the payment of a just debt, upon the ground that the debt was too great. If needs be, it should perish in efforts to liquidate its obligations. He advocated the bill at length, upon the consideration of justice and policy, claiming it merely provided a method of the settlement of claims. He deprecated all discriminations as to loyalty between citizens of different States.

Without a vote the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Bills were introduced as follows:

By Mr. JONES (N. C.): Incorporating a branch of the contemplated Southern Trans-Continental Railroad Company as the North Carolina Western Railroad Company.

By Mr. HARRIS: For the appointment of a committee to consider a system of leveeing Mississippi lands.

By Mr. NEWSHAM: To provide for the payment of loyal claims for property taken or destroyed by the United States.

Also, to provide for repairs of levees on Red River between the mouth and Shreveport.

By Mr. PROSSER: To authorize the President to submit a proposition to the Spanish Government for the settlement of difficulties in Cuba by arbitration or otherwise.

By Mr. ARNELL: To establish a Freedmen's Homestead Commission.

Also, to authorize the payment of bounty to colored men enrolled as slaves.

By Mr. CONGER: For building a custom house, &c., at Port Huron, Michigan.

By Mr. WILSON, (Minn.): For the improvement of the harbor of Duluth.

Also, authorizing the Huron Bay and Lake Pepin Railroad Company to construct and maintain a bridge across the Mississippi river.

By Mr. TAFFE: Granting public lands to the Great Nehama Valley Railroad.

Mr. WOOD offered a resolution instructing the Committee of Ways and Means to report a bill abolishing the tariff on coal. He moved the previous question, which was seconded, and under its operation the resolution was agreed to—113 against 79.

Additional bills were introduced and referred:

By Mr. NEGLEY: To encourage the establishment of steamship lines to the ports of Europe, India and China.

By Mr. SARGENT: To amend the act of June 30th, 186[illegible], imposing taxes on distilled spirits and tobacco, so as to allow the same drawback as allowed on rum and alcohol.

On motion of Mr. DAWES, the rules were suspended and the order of the House requiring adjournment at five o'clock was rescinded.

Mr. BANKS moved to suspend the rules and assign Tuesday of next week, and from day to day thereafter, for the consideration of the majority and minority reports of the Committee on Foreign Affairs in reference to Cuba, stating he would not allow the subject to consume more than one or two days at the farthest.

The House refused to suspend the rules.

Mr. BANKS modified his motion by confining it to one day, Tuesday of next week.

Mr. FARNSWORTH said that his objection was that the subject of Cuba would displace other public business. He considered that an outrage and a humbug.

The motion was agreed to—134 to 30.

Mr. BANKS called attention to the fact of the recent publication of what purported to be the report of the committee. It was published without the authority or knowledge of the committee, and he regretted exceedingly its publication. It was an imperfect report of a statement read to the committee on the 7th of March last, and had been kept confidential. He asked that the majority and minority reports might be published in the Globe before the day assigned. So ordered.

Mr. DAWES, from the Appropriation Committee, reported the River and Harbor appropriation bill and the sundry civil expenses appropriation bill, which were made special orders, the former for next Thursday, and the latter for Wednesday of next week. He stated these were the last of the appropriation bills.

Mr. SCHENCK, Chairman of Committee of Ways and Means, reported a bill to authorize the refunding and consolidation of the national debt and for other purposes. Recommitted and ordered printed.

It authorizes the issue of $1,000,000,000 of coupon and registered thirty year bonds, redeemable in coin, bearing four per cent. coin interest, principal and interest to be exempt from all Federal, State, municipal or local taxation. The total bonded debt is not to be increased, but new bonds are to be exchanged for outstanding Five-Twenty bonds at par value. The fourth section authorizes the Secretary of the Treasury to sell all surplus gold in the Treasury, the proceeds of which are to be used in buying up and cancelling 5-20 bonds. Subsequent sections authorize the cancellation and destruction of bonds now or hereafter held as sinking and special funds, a detailed record thereof to be kept and the same to be deducted from the outstanding public debt, and an amount equal to interest of all bonds belonging to the sinking funds shall be applied to the payment of the public debt. They also authorize the issue of three per cent. certificates in return for gold deposited for not less than thirty days with the Treasurers of the United States, which may be received at par, with accrued interest, in payment for bonds authorized by this act.

The House then resumed the consideration of the bill to reduce taxation, the question being on Mr. Schenck's motion to lay on the table the motion to reconsider the vote whereby the main question was ordered on his amendment, viz.: the first section of the Tariff Bill.

The motion was agreed to and the amendment adopted—139 to 43.

Mr. SCHENCK then offered as an amendment the second section of the Tariff Bill, being the free list section.

The previous question was seconded—102 to 40, and the amendment adopted.

The items of clay, and Fuller's earth and sponges were struck out of the list and the item colonite inserted.

Mr. SCHENCK then offered as an amendment the third section, relieving from tonnage duties vessels in the coastwise trade and fisheries. Agreed to without division.

Mr. SCHENCK then offered the fourth and last section, modified so as to make it apply only to imported goods in bonded warehouses. Agreed to without division.

Mr. SCHENCK then moved the previous question on engrossment and third reading of the bill.

The motion was seconded and the bill passed—150 to 35—all negative votes by Democrats.

Mr. GARFIELD moved the special order for the currency bill to-morrow be extended also to Wednesday. Agreed to, and the speeches on Wednesday limited to ten minutes each.

The House then went into committee on the postoffice appropriation bill.

An amendment to make the pay of letter carriers $1,100 a year was rejected, as was one striking out the appropriation for that object.

The letter carrier system was restricted to cities of not less than forty thousand inhabitants.

Mr. DAWES offered an amendment providing that no part of the appropriation for stamped envelopes shall be used except for a supply sufficient to last till next October, and except to carry out contracts hereafter to be made with the lowest bidders on samples to be furnished by the Postmaster General. Adopted.

The Committee rose, reported the bill to the House and it passed.

Mr. SARGENT introduced a bill to prohibit contracts for servile labor. Referred.

An evening session was held exclusively for general debate.

The Municipal Election—Great Excitement and Rioting at the Polls—Emory, Reform Candidate, Elected—Reception to Spotted Tail, Red Cloud and Other Indian Chiefs, &c.

[By Telegraph to Pittsburgh Gazette.]
WASHINGTON CITY, June 6, 1870.

THE MUNICIPAL ELECTION.

An extraordinary degree of excitement prevails in regard to the municipal election. The Democrats made no nominations, and the contest for the Mayoralty is between the present incumbents, Bowen and Emery, both of whom claim to represent the Republican party. The contest will be one of the fiercest ever known in this city, and has engendered an angry and violent controversy between the opposing parties. To such an alarming extent is this manifested that serious trouble is feared at the polls, and in order to keep peace the United States forces at the barracks will be under the control of the Superintendent of the Police. Besides these, a large special police force will be on hand.

RIOTING AT THE ELECTION.

At the Third ward polls this afternoon during a difficulty between whites and blacks, one of the latter was shot in the wrist. A riot occurred in the Seventh ward, which was so serious that the officers were obliged to interfere. A colored man was shot by one of the officers, the ball entering the left side. By riding into a crowd of several thousand persons and briskly using batons the mounted police succeeded in dispersing the rioters, some of whom were arrested. With these exceptions there was general good order throughout the city.

Never before was there so much interest in a municipal election. The main contest was between Bowen, the present Mayor, and Emory, also Republican, who for the greater part was supported by those outside of that organization. The Emory men claim his election by over three thousand majority, together with their candidates for City Council. Cannon are being fired to-night and bonfires lighted by the victors.

The majority for Emory, the Reform candidate for Mayor, is 3,177.

RECEPTION TO THE VISITING INDIANS.

The President gave a reception to Red Cloud, Spotted Tail and the other Chiefs to-night. The entertainment was as elegant as that given Prince Arthur. Mrs. Grant, all the members of the Cabinet, with ladies, British, Russian and other Ministers and their families, and many others were present. Spotted Tail remarked to his interpreter, during the feast, that the white men had a great many more good things to eat and drink than they usually sent out to the Indians. The interpreter replied it was because he had quit the war path and gone to farming. "How," exclaimed the Chief, "I will quit the war path and go to farming too, if you will always treat me like this and let me live in as big houses."

BOUNDARY SURVEY.

The bill introduced into the House for the survey of certain boundaries of Arizona is rendered necessary by the encroachments of the Mormons on the north and the miners on the east.

THE INDIANS.

Threatened War Between the Sioux and Cheyennes in Dakota.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CHICAGO, June 6—News received in this city to-day from Fort Stevenson, Dakota Territory, states that a party of Sioux Indians near that point had attacked a party of Cheyennes, killing one and wounding several others. The Cheyennes, to the number of about eight hundred lodges, were terribly exasperated, and were threatening war to the knife against the Sioux. Four or five other tribes had manifested a disposition to unite with the Cheyennes in their work of revenge, and there was a prospect of bloody times among the savages in that region.

Letters received to-day from the Sweet Water mines say that since the raids made by the Arapahoe Indians during the first part of this month none have been seen. The soldiers sent there for protection have been well stationed and the people are beginning to have more confidence. The mining interests in consequence are brightening.

The Big Horn expedition were at Rawlin's station yesterday and left to-day all well.

Trouble is daily anticipated from Indians on the reservation at the mouth of White River. The whites are preparing for war.

The Union Pacific Railroad Company to-day purchased the entire site of the town of Grand Island. The citizens are much pleased, as heretofore no one has had a good title to the property.

ST. LOUIS, June 6.—Captain Mitchell, of the Fifth Infantry, who arrived to-day from the Indian country, furnishes an account of the recent attack on Bear Creek Station, forty miles south of Fort Dodge. Thirty-five Indians came to the station, which was guarded by Sergeant Murray and four men of the Third Infantry, who represented themselves as Arapahoes. After cooking and eating some time in a friendly manner, all but seven left. Those remaining shot two of Murray's men and severely wounded the Sergeant himself, after which they fled. Sixty mules belonging to Mr. Trainy, trader at Camp Supply, were run off and one herder killed. Two or three other men were also killed at different places.

It is reported that the Indians had left Camp Supply and the new Indian Agency on the Canadian River. It is stated a grand War Council was recently held at Antelope Hills, by the Camanches, Kiowas, Cheyennes, Arapahoes and Apaches, and some runners from the Sioux, but the result is unknown.

An expedition consisting of companies of the 7th Cavalry, and one company of infantry left Kit Carson on Friday last for the forks of Republican River. Three batteries at Fort Riley have been ordered to move at once and report to General Custar to relieve the Seventh Cavalry now guarding the frontier on Solomon and Republican Rivers. The Cavalry is to concentrate at Fort Hays and most vigorous measures are to be adapted against the Indians. Gov. Harvey, of Kansas, reached Gen. Custar's camp Saturday to confer with him regarding the Indian campaign.

CINCINNATI.

International Printers' Union—Reduction of Railroad Fare—McFarland, the Insane, in Town—Insurance Suit Verdict.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, June 6.—At the session this morning of the International Typographical Union, an address of welcome was made by Thos. Ogden, President of Cincinnati Union, tendering the delegates the hospitalities of the city. He alluded to the fact that Cincinnati was the birth-place of the National Union, and to the wonderful growth of the organization. He conjured them to look well to the object of its being, the elevation of the position and character of the craft, and maintenance of its interests. To this President George replied, tendering thanks for the generous sentiments expressed, and assuring them of his desires for concord and harmony.

At the meeting this afternoon the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Wm. J. Hammond, New Orleans; First Vice President, Thos. Willard, Albany; Second Vice President, John H. O'Donnell, Boston; Secretary and Treasurer, John Collins, Cincinnati; Recording and Corresponding Secretary, Miss Augusta Lewis, New York.

Mr. Hammond was loudly called for after his election was announced, whereupon he temporarily took the stand and thanked the Union in a brief but very appropriate speech.

When Miss Lewis was placed in nomination she sought to decline the honor, but the Union would not listen to her declination, and she was accordingly elected by acclamation in the midst of considerable enthusiasm. One of the delegates desired a ballot, for he said that it had been so long since he had voted for a woman that he did not want to lose the opportunity on this occasion.

Eighty-two delegates are now here and others expected. Sacramento, California, and Toronto and Montreal, Canada, have representatives.

A material reduction has been made by two railroads in fare east to-day. The Erie and Atlantic and Great Western Railway first announced a reduction from Cincinnati to New York from $22.50 to $20.10, and to Boston via. Fall River from $26 to $21.35. This was followed by the Little Miami, Pan Handle and Pennsylvania Central making similar reduction to New York and corresponding reduction to Philadelphia, Boston, Baltimore and Washington.

The American Free Baptist Mission Society holds its annual meeting here this week, commencing to-night.

Daniel McFarland has been here several days incognito. He registered his name D. Mack at the Burnet House. He was finally discovered and has since had many visitors.

In the suit of Cincinnati and Louisville Mail Line against the Globe Insurance Company of this city for insurance on the steamer United States, destroyed by fire induced by a collision with the steamer America, the verdict of the jury to-day was in favor of the mail line for the full amount claimed, $9,558.

MEXICO.

Extra Session of Congress—Stage Robbery—Execution of Bandits—Revolutionary Situation—Invasion by Guatemalans—Earthquake.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

HAVANA, June 6.—Mexico City dates to the first of June state that Congress would probably hold an extra session in order to finish the discussion on the proposed constitutional reforms.

The stage between Vera Cruz and Jalapa was robbed by brigands and one passenger killed. Six bandits were recently executed at Zacatecas.

Gen. Rocha is moving on the revolutionary forces in Nueva, Leon and Tamaulipas. Garcia Cadena has temporarily dissolved his bands. The Zacatecas insurgents are disbanding.

The new Hermoiselle mines are yielding enormously.

The citizens of Guatemala had invaded Mexican territory, establishing courts and laws in the State of Chiapa, and cutting out farms for themselves, not recognizing the laws of the Mexican government. The squatters were ordered to abandon Mexican territory. Notice was also given them that if they did not comply force would be used to destroy their property and buildings. It is generally believed that Felix Diaz, Governor of Oxaca, is the prime mover in this invasion, intending to form a separate republic.

The national treasury is bankrupt.

The Guayamos revolution has ended for the present, Lozada refusing to participate.

A violent earthquake visited the State of Oaxaca. Its effects were especially disastrous in the City of Oaxaca. One hundred and three persons were killed and fifty-three wounded, and one-third of the city rendered uninhabitable. The earthquake extended to the mines, where four men were killed and many wounded. Buildings in all parts of the State were destroyed, and reports of additional deaths are coming in.

Governor Diaz has sent a commission to the Pacific coast to observe the volcanic eruption threatened at Potshutla.

The standing army has been increased to 25,000 men, and will require an appropriation of $9,000,000 annually, equal to nearly half the revenue of the government.

Hon. Wm. H. Seward made a donation to the Lancasterian Benevolent Society of the city of Mexico.

Commissioners reported in favor of the Rio Grande and Guayamas Railroad Company, and Congress passed Minister Romero's budget and appropriation bills.

Do not fail to attend, if you have the remotest idea of purchasing a home.

Quarter Sessions—Judge Collier.

MONDAY, June 6.—The June term of the Quarter Sessions Court commenced this morning, not in the new court room, however, as the parties having the matter in charge failed to have the room ready. Nothing remains to be done to fit it for occupancy except carpeting the floors and putting in counsel and reporters' tables.

The list of grand jurors was called, when the following gentlemen answered to their names: Allen Aber, William Boyd, John W. Bailey, John K. Brown, A. W. Copeland, Nicholas Carr, George Dengel, Levi Edmundson, Charles Evans, Duncan Hamilton, Robert Herron, W. B. Hays, Evan Jones, A. F. Keating, Matthew Mitchell, Alex. McJunkins, L. B. Patterson, Moses Philip, Andrew Scott, George W. Wilson, Dewese Wood. Messrs. Wm. Holmes and Michael McGingley were excused from serving.

John K. Brown, of Allegheny, was designated as foreman, after which the jury was sworn, and Judge Collier delivered the usual charge. He called the attention of the Grand Jurors to the practice of allowing parties interested in cases to be inquired into to approach them and converse with them. His Honor informed them that such conduct was a misdemeanor on the part of the jurors as well as on the part of persons interested, and that it would not be allowed. The District Attorney had complained to the court in regard to the matter, and it was because of this complaint that attention was called to it. The court hoped that there would be no further necessity of referring to the practice.

The Grand Jurors then retired to their room, when a large amount of routine business, such as the hearing of reports of constables, disposing of surety cases, etc., was transacted.

The case of the Commonwealth vs. William Rafferty, indicted as a common gambler, was called up, but was postponed until half-past nine o'clock Tuesday morning. The case will certainly be taken up at the time stated, and witnesses were notified to be on hand promptly or attachments would be issued for them.

PFINGST MONDAY.

Celebration by our German Citizens—Exercises and Procession.

Yesterday was Pfingst Monday—a grand festival day with our German population. This holiday is one which originated years ago, and is one among those which are celebrated universally by Germans wherever they may be. It is generally given up to feastings and merrymakings; and is to the celebrants one of the happiest of the year. Yesterday it was celebrated here by numerous pic nics in Allegheny City, Troy Hill, Iron City Park in addition to innumerable smaller parties. The grand feature of the day, however, was a procession of the Red Men, who turned out in full force. This was under the command of Mr. Charles Slizer, Chief Marshal of the day, assisted by a full corps of aids. It was composed of the following Tribes:

District of Allegheny and Beaver counties, under Fred. Schmitt, D. D. Chief. Seven Tribes, 800 members.
Lenon Tribe, No. 147, of Dravosburg.
Allegheny Tribe, No. 93, of Allegheny city.
Chippewa Tribe, No. 122, of Manchester.
Fort Liberty Tribe, No. 130, of East Liberty.
Nevada Tribe, No. 108, of Birmingham.
Monongahela Tribe, No. 94, of Pittsburgh.
Ottawa Tribe, No. 107, of Pittsburgh.
Delegation from Beaver Falls Tribe, No. 142.

The Washington Cornett and Allegheny Turner Bands furnished the music for the occasion.

An attractive feature of the procession was a car drawn by four horses and containing thirty-four young misses dressed in white.

Then came a carriage containing the Goddess of Liberty appropriately arrayed.

A carriage with a white man and Indian shaking hands, and a second with the white man and Indian embracing.

Then followed carriages containing officers of high rank—Adolphus Lang, Chief of State; Ed. Thiery, Assist. Chief of State; F. Schmidt, D.D., G. Chief of District; Christopher Linder, Chief Powhattan of the United States.

The procession marched through the principal streets of the two cities and Birmingham, and then proceeded to Iron City Park, where a festival was in progress under the management of Mr. Frederick Shoemaker. Here a beautiful banner was presented to Lenox Tribe by three ladies of McKeesport, Mr. Christ Linder, of Philadelphia, making the speech, and Rev. Mr. Schilling, of Allegheny, presiding.

A handsome and costly diploma was also presented by Head Chief Lang to Fr. Schmidt, as a token of appreciation of his services to the order.

The remainder of the day was spent in feasting and merriment, and at a late hour the participants returned homewards, not a single event having occurred to mar the pleasures of the day.

BURNED TO DEATH.

Accident at a Brick Kiln—Seven Persons Injured—Death of One Victim.

A singular and fatal accident occurred at Heinz & Co.'s brick yard at Sharpsburg, Saturday afternoon at two o'clock. It seems the men engaged in the yard were gathered around a kiln which they were opening—the bricks having been properly burned. In the construction of a kiln there is always a layer of sand about eighteen inches thick between the front row of bricks and the front of the kiln. This is kept in place by a plank wall—the other three walls being built up of solid brick or stone. When a kiln is to be opened the lower plank is taken out and the sand scooped out and shoveled to one side as fast as it falls.

The men in this case had taken out the lower plank and were about to remove the sand, when suddenly it came bursting out of the opening as though it had been water. The men had not time to get away, and eight of them were caught in it as it spread immediately over a plot of ground measuring about forty feet. The sand was as hot as a live coal, and all whom it touched were severely burned. They were unable to move, but their cries brought assistance, and in a few moments all were taken home, where medical attention was secured. One of the victims, Herbert Cupps, a boy, was terribly burned, and after lingering in great agony, died on Sabbath morning. Two of the remainder were able to be about yesterday, but had not fully recovered. The names of the victims are Addison Cupps, Adam Apt, John Millheisler, Lieble Nohay, Fritz Haun, Peter Heinz, Charles Boucher and Herbert Cupps, the one who died.

The cause of the falling of the sand can only be explained on the supposition that it contained some quicksand. This fact was unknown to the proprietors of the yard. Generally, the sand comes out only when dug, and no fear of any accident from that source is ever entertained.

Coroner Clawson has been notified and will hold an inquest upon the remains of young Herbert.

—A communication from Vienna states that since the publication in Austria of the laws on religious liberty, a strange movement has arisen in the population of that city. In less than two years about sixty-eight persons of both sexes have abjured the Christian for the Jewish faith, and these conversions are on the increase.

—A destructive tornado swept over Scott county, Illinois, on Saturday. It covered an area of four or five miles in length, and a mile in width. Fences were demolished, wheat, corn, oats and garden vegetables were completely destroyed, the largest forest trees torn up by the roots, and orchards and vinyards ruined. No lives were lost.

THERE is much philosophising as to what Prince Arthur will do with the Fenian uniform which was presented to him lately as a trophy of the successful repulsion of the invasion of the Dominion. It is said that it is not a suitable garb with which a Prince of one of the most aristocratic families of Europe could array himself. He could not suspend it in his ample wardrobe lest it might defile his royal garments. Nor could he donate it to one of his mother's liege subjects in Canada, for it would be as dangerous for any one to appear in it in that country as it was but a few years since for a colored man to sport a military uniform in Virginia. The best way to dispose of it, then, will be to send it to England as an evidence of his military prowess, and demonstrate his fitness as a gallant soldier for the high position to which he is to be elevated in the English army on his return to his native land.

THE Louisville Courier-Journal, in speaking of the establishment in London of a magazine which is to contain the cream of all our American periodicals, says: "This is all very well, but will prove a losing business in the end, as the literary merit of most of the articles which may be cribbed from any of our periodicals is so inferior to the best English reviews that one specimen will fully satisfy those readers in England who may have any desire to dip into the 'best selections from the American magazines.'" We do not agree with this statement at all, for whatever may be said of our serial literature, our magazines contain better short stories and poems than the English ones, and there are few writers for foreign publications of a higher standard than Holmes, Lowell, Longfellow, Whittier, Hale or Curtis, of more hearty humor than Clemens or Harte, or of more sensational and popular readiness than Beecher. In fact we think it highly probable that the English scrap book, if well conducted, will be better worth binding for preservation than are any of the similar American journals.

OUR exchanges speak kindly of the patriotism which induced our people to lay the corner-stone of a monument that will through ages commemorate the bravery of those who fell in defense of the country. We do not think we are worthy compliment for discharging a clear and holy duty, but are nevertheless pleased with the general recognition made through the press of our continued loyalty and devotion and our never-dying gratitude to the nation's defenders, and hence will be pardoned for re-producing the following from the Detroit Post:

"Pittsburgh does the proper thing by stepping forward on Memorial Day and laying the foundation for a monument which is to be completed within the year. It is mainly the work of a few patriotic and energetic ladies, who distinguished themselves by their labors in the Sanitary Commission during the war. When the living soldiers had no further need of their services, they turned their attention to paying a worthy tribute of respect to the dead. With its inscriptions and ornaments it promises to be a beautiful as well as fitting memorial, and will reflect not less honor upon the brave ladies who projected it than upon the brave soldiers it commemorates."

PITTSBURGH is probably worse supplied with pleasant country resorts and country boarding places of easy access, than any other city of its size. There must be hundreds of families here who would be glad to find some quiet, cheap, pleasant place—farm-house or inn—in the country, where they could spend a few weeks each summer and gain vigor and rest for the remainder of the year. In fact, owing to the closeness of our town and the constant smoke and bustle Pittsburghers really seem to need such recreation more than most people, yet scarcely any opportunity for so doing seems to be offered them. Some go to the fashionable watering places, some get quiet and rest at Cresson, some have country houses of their own, but of local available family resorts, such as are advertised so extensively in New York and Philadelphia papers under the head of country board, there is a remarkable dearth. That there is a demand for this sort of accommodation we feel assured from the fact that we so frequently hear people complain of their inability to procure it, and men often say that they have to keep their families in town all summer because their wives are unwilling to leave them alone for a long period, and they know of no place to go whence they can come to and from business every day, or even every week. The kind of place that is wanted is what children call "real country," where milk and grass abound, and where there is room for children to get their fill of good fresh air, and long hearty out-door walks. There is many a farm-house hereabouts where all these requisites exist, and many a farmer to whose means the board money for the summer would be a welcome addition. But the idea of taking boarders does not seem to strike them spontaneously, and the people who want them do not know where to find them.

LOTHAIR.

Lothair is probably the greatest sensation in the world of fiction since the appearance of Hugo's Les Miserables. No book was probably ever written with greater impatience or more quickly read after it first appeared. The number of volumes sold during the first week after its publication was positively enormous both in England and America, and this is scarcely to be wondered at as, in spite of the numerous crowned authors, no one of such pre-eminent political importance, excepting Louis Napoleon, has written a work of fiction during this generation at least. And of all who have read this latest novel not one was disappointed with it. It is highly sensational, the characters are taken from the very highest classes of Church and State, the incidents are of the intensest interest and the discriptions of the most glowing and brilliant character, while the immorality in it is of so very mild an order that even the old Scotch Presbyterian guardian of Lothair could hardly object to his daughters reading it. And besides this, all these things are handled in a manner that betokens, not merely a master, but one accustomed to and familiar with that of which he writes. Thus we rise from the book with a conviction that it all might have been, the Dukes and Cardinals and Bishops act and speak as if they were men like the rest of us, and there is no feeling of nausea and disgust mingled with an impression that English high life must be very like American low life, and English morality about nothing at all, such as is almost sure to be produced by such books as those of Ouida, for instance, which are probably the most dangerous of all novels, and present a coarse and ugly hook for the detractors of modern fiction to hang their complaints upon.

But one of the most striking evidences of the truth of Mr. D'Israeli's delineations of character is the fact that like some of Boz's earlier and better novels, Lothair has been already frequently assailed on account of its personalities. Almost every character is said to mean somebody who does'nt like it, and numerous have been the protests. Of these the latest is a letter from Professor Goldwin Smith, breathing blood and thunder and vengeance dire, because he recognizes his own portrait in one of the subordinate characters, an Oxford professor, superficially profound, unorthodox, pedantic and unpatriotic. The right honorable author will doubtless tremble in his shoes when he reads the Professor's note, but he will accept it as a compliment, and as one more proof that the Prime Minister is also a prime novelist.

EVANGELICAL ALLIANCE.

The Church has always held religious conventions to be of great importance. The first Christian Alliance assembled about eighteen hundred years ago, on one of the mountains of Judea. It was a small but august and brilliant assembly. The Great Founder of the Christian religion presided, and around him were gathered Moses and Elias, and Peter, James and John—the representatives, respectively, of the Old and New Testament churches, or of the church triumphant and the church militant. But one subject seems to have occupied the attention of that illustrious convention, the decease which was about to be accomplished at Jerusalem.

Since that time many Œcumenical Councils have been held, and much discussion, profitable and unprofitable, has been had among ecclesiastics of different nations. The Papal Œcumenical, now in session in Rome, has attracted a large share of public attention since it first assembled in the Eternal City. The Protestant Œcumenical, which will assemble in the city of New York next September, is already engaging the attention of what is called "Evangelical Christians" in different parts of the country, and auxiliary or branch Societies are being organized in many localities.

The "Evangelical Alliance" was formed in 1846. It is not for us to determine whether Dr. Balmer, of Scotland, or Dr. Patten, of New York, is entitled to the honor of originating the Association. In the year 1845 a requisition was signed by a large number of ministers and laymen in England, Wales, Scotland and Ireland, calling for a General Council of Protestant Christendom, with the view, as was stated, of healing the divisions that exist in the Protestant Church. The call met with a cordial response, and a large preliminary meeting was held in Liverpool, England, in October of the same year.

In the following year, the formal organization was effected, we believe, in the city of London. The original basis comprises the following principles, which are held to be fundamental by the various denominations of Evangelical Christendom: the divine inspiration, authority and sufficiency of the Holy Scriptures; the unity of the Godhead, and the trinity of persons therein; the utter depravity of human nature in consequence of the fall; the incarnation, atonement, mediatorial intercession and reign of the Son of God; the work of the Holy Spirit in the conversion and sanctification of the sinner; the right and duty of private judgment in the interpretation of the Holy Scriptures; the divine institution of the Christian ministry, and the authority and perpetuity of the ordinances of Baptism, and the Lord's Supper; the immortality of the soul, the resurrection of the body, the judgment of the world by Jesus Christ, and a future state of rewards and punishments. The article which relates to the immortality of the soul, etc., gave rise to a lengthy, but calm debate, and was added at the suggestion of the Commissioners from the United States.

Since its original organization, the Alliance has held five general meetings, as follows: at London in 1851; Paris in 1855. Berlin in 1857; Geneva 1861, and Amsterdam in 1867. The sixth meeting will be held in the city of New York in September of the present year, and it is expected that the members will make a grand excursion to Niagara Falls, and return to the east by way of Pittsburgh and Philadelphia.

During the past year Rev. Dr. Schaff made an extensive tour through insular and continental Europe, the principal object of which was to perfect arrangements for the meeting of the Protestant Œcumenical in this country next autumn. Twenty-five of the most distinguished devines in Europe have agreed to prepare papers on Christian Unity; Christianity and its entagonists; the state of religion throughout the world; the religious relations existing between America and Continental Europe; the harmony of science and revelation; Christianity and the press; Protestanism and Romanism under various aspects; Christianity and social evils, and many other subjects.

Among the distinguished foreign divines expected to visit New York, in connection with the meeting of the Alliance, are; Dean Alford, of Canterbury; Doctor Stoughton, of London; Professor Tholuck, of the University of Halle; Doctor Preffeuse, of the Free church of France; Dr. Dorme, of the University of Berlin; Professor Bronier, of the University of Berlin, and the Earl of Shaftesbury, President of the British and Foreign Bible Society, England. The British Council of the Alliance will defray the expenses of the delegates from Great Britain and Ireland; those of the delegates from the Continent will be paid by the Council of the United States, large contributions towards which have already been made by generous Christian gentlemen in New York and Philadelphia, and other places.

It is not the design of the Alliance, or any of its branches, to establish a new church, or interfere with the internal arrangements of existing churches. Nothing is farther from their intention than to frame or set up a new creed. The great object of the Alliance is to demonstrate the spiritual unity that exists in the Protestant Church, and to counteract, by united force, the movements of superstition on the one hand, and infidelity on the other. In its Constitution it knows nothing of denominations, as such. No one will be recognized as a member of the Alliance who may be sent as a denominational delegate. Those only who are members of the parent society, or its auxiliaries, will be entitled to seats as members in the Œcumenical Council.

The meeting of the Alliance, which will take place at the time and place already specified, will be, in our opinion, the most important religious convention ever held in this country.

As would be seen in our local columns yesterday, the Pittsburgh branch of the United States Alliance was formally organized last Sabbath evening in the Third Presbyterian Church, Sixth avenue. On the roll of its officers we notice the names of some of the most distinguished divines and laymen of the two cities, gentlemen who will give character to any association with which they may be connected.

PROTECTION.

Interesting Correspondence Between Samuel J. Reeves, Esq., of Philadelphia, and Hon. D. J. Morrell—The Responsibility of Parties Discussed, &c.

PHILADELPHIA, April 26, 1870.

HON. DANIEL J. MORRELL, House of Representatives, Washington, D. C.

MY DEAR SIR: I want to tell you, in entire candor, that the Republican party is, in my humble judgment, placing itself in hostility to the industrial interests of the country, and is legislating in the interests of the representatives of foreign industries. There are from thirty to fifty Members of Congress, who are known as Republicans, and who are doing their best to break down home industry. In their speeches they lie and misrepresent facts, tenfold more than even the Democrats. Kelley and a few others call them to account, but where do we hear of New Englanders or Western men taking any interest in the subject of Protection. The subject is so very uninteresting that there is scarcely a quorum of the House found to be on hand whenever it is under discussion.

If Protection and Domestic Industry is no longer a part of the Republican platform, to be fought for and maintained and supported against all attacks, then I intend to be counted out of the party. Moreover, I intend to use my influence to induce others to abandon it. I shall tell every man I meet and on all occasions, that the party has tricked and betrayed those who have been their firmest and most ardent supporters. I think you must admit that nine-tenths of the iron manufacturers of the country, and nearly one-half their employes, have voted regularly the Republican ticket straight and sure. I believe that a majority of them are, just now, in that condition of mind that only a little more such action as is exhibited by Allison, Logan and Butler, in Committee of the Whole when the Tariff bill is under consideration, is needed to sever them from all party connection.

Business is so very unprofitable and dull at this time that but few manufacturers are able to be absent from home. Their absence is set down to indifference instead of to the right cause. In this emergency they are not as strong as they would wish to be. Because they do not congregate about the lobbies at Washington, while their enemies are there in regiments, it is thought by many members of the party that their interests may be abandoned or feebly supported. I tell you there is a deep indignation pervading their minds, and a determination to avenge themselves against a party which has professed to be friendly, but when the day of action comes is found to be false. There are some, indeed, who are true and valiant men; they will not be forgotten, but they must come out of the party. We are no longer to be tricked by mere names or platforms made to catch votes. We mean to tell the workingmen that neither the Democratic nor the Republican party is their friend. They load us down with taxes and give away our industries to foreigners. They affiliate with importers who are not citizens and who are agents of foreign houses. They act like fools and idiots in not taking care of their own household. The Republican party is paying out rope to hang itself. It is even now choking with a twist around its neck. I say good-bye to it. Its best days are past; it is now becoming useless, or worse. When it abandons Protection to American Industry, as it is now doing, it is a sign that the party is in its dotage.

Yours, truly,

SAM'L J. REEVES.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,
WASHINGTON, D. C., May 26th, 1870.

SAMUEL J. REEVES, Esq., Philadelphia.

MY DEAR SIR: My time has been so fully occupied of late that such a reply as I wished to make to your letter of April 26th, was impossible at an earlier date than this.

So many false prophets are to-day filling the air with predictions that the Republican party, having served its day, will now pass into a stage of decrepitude and disintegration, that I am not astonished that men of your usual sagacity should lose hope in that organization and cast about for new political associates and combinations. I have myself very frequently felt discouraged to witness the delay of our friends in both Houses of Congress to pass needed measures of financial and revenue reform, but I have at no time felt that relief could be obtained by calling upon our political opponents or any part of them for aid and comfort. Democratic Senators and Representatives have manifested even less readiness and less ability than their Republican colleagues to deal with the important economic questions which the war has left as a legacy to the thinking minds of the whole country, and the press of that party has shown even less inclination to deal fairly and less aptness to deal intelligently with these great questions. A querulous, fault-finding, obstructive spirit, similar to that which controlled its utterances during the war, characterizes the course of the Democratic press to-day. A spirit of even-tempered, unpartisan inquiry would better comport with the necessities of the people and a proper discharge of editorial responsibilities, but we seldom if ever find it in Democratic journals. I see nothing to be gained in the line of wise statesmanship, but much to be lost, by surrendering the control of the Government and the shaping of its industrial and financial legislation to the Democratic party. That party is not progressive in its tendencies, but conservative and reactionary. It hugs the dead past to its bosom and shuts its eyes to the achievements of the mighty present. It would have repudiated the national debt and remanded the blacks to slavery two years ago if it had been in power, just as it would have made the war for the Union a failure and a crime if James Buchanan had been President for four years longer. Such a party cannot be trusted to do the work which only a warm-blooded, thoroughly earnest, and wholly progressive organization can well perform. I therefore hold fast my faith in the Republican party, believing that in time it will give us such wise laws as the people need.

It was but natural that the Republican party should make mistakes in the past, and that it should now be slow to perfect measures to meet the financial and other exigencies entailed by the war. As the war presented problems and difficulties that required to be promptly considered, and concerning which there existed no precedents, it was inevitable that many plans should be imperfectly matured, and that occasionally some one should blunder. The rebellion assailed the nation's life with scarcely a note of warning which was heeded, and the officers who led our armies and the legislators who shaped the laws which sustained those armies deserve only the most indulgent criticism for any errors they may have committed. So, too, it may with equal truth be said that reconstruction, payment of the National debt, reduction of taxation, restoration of our commerce, and the harmonizing of our industrial interests were also war problems, as difficult of solution and almost as important as the war itself. But there was a difference between the war and its legacies. While it could not always wait for carefully-matured plans, they did not require adjustments at the expense of thoroughness and accuracy. Hence great care and deliberation have marked the consideration of these entailed questions. There have been many and needless delays, but better this than rash and unwise action.

I have no doubt that Congress at its present session will enact more than one law which will have the effect of relieving the people of many of the burdens they now bear, and this, in conjunction with the prudent statesmanship and far reaching economy of President Grant's administration of the executive office, should and will strengthen the Republican party in the coming campaign.

But you object particularly to the course pursued by Republican Members of Congress during the present session on the Tariff question, and you seem disposed to hold the whole party responsible for what a few only of its representatives have done or failed to do. In this I think you are both illogical and unjust, as I will try to convince you.

If you will analyze the elements which compose the Republican party, you will find that hatred of slavery gave to it most of its adherents up to the breaking out of the war. Love of country swelled its ranks when Sumter was fired upon and during succeeding years. Beyond this hatred of slavery and love of country, those who have acted with the Republican party up to this time have been united by no other common bond. They have differed concerning secondary questions—notably about the funding of the national debt, about specie payments, about a free banking system, about subsidizing American railroads and shipbuilders, and about this vexed question of a tariff. And it was inevitable that they should differ. The Republican party is a new party, called into existence by great emergencies. There are in its ranks those who were once Henry Clay Whigs; others who were Andrew Jackson Democrats; others who were Abolitionists with James G. Birney in 1844, and Free Soilers with Martin Van Buren in 1848; others who were Know-Nothings in 1854; and thousands of foreign born citizens who were opposed to Know-Nothingism. Some of its members have always been free traders; others have always been strong protectionists. Some have believed in a hard money system; others have advocated paper issues. All these vote with the Republican party to-day because it was opposed to slavery and crushed the rebellion, and because they have faith in its future. But, composed of such diverse elements as have been enumerated, we could not expect it to act in perfect accord in the discussion of new issues. The wonder is, that there has not been more discord during the years that have intervened since the surrender of Lee to Grant.

I would not turn one voter away from our ranks because he does not come fully up to my views on the Tariff question or accept my plan of adjusting our financial legislation to our changed political condition. Rather would I seek to hold fast the friendship of all those who have sustained the national honor, and would aid the country in this era of wider liberty to go forward in peace and prosperity. If we cannot agree on the details of party policy, we at least agree on the essential proposition that there is danger to the country in again confiding power to the Democratic party; while, with the freedom of opinion, of speech, and the press, which a strong, active, intelligent, patriotic, and progressive party can afford to tolerate in its own ranks, we may hope in time for greater homogenity and a broader comprehension of all the elements which tend to individual comfort and national independence. Therefore, my dear sir, for the reasons that have been assigned, I think you argue from false premises when you hold the Republican party responsible because it has not at the present session of Congress reflected your views and mine in what it has done or left undone.

But you are unjust as well as illogical. You propose to abandon the Republican organization because its representatives in Congress have not passed Gen. Schenck's admirable Tariff bill. As well visit with punishment the brave soldier who fails to win success, as thus to condemn and desert the large majority of the Republican members of Congress who have stood by the noble Schenck in the late prolonged Tariff contest. To whom are the friends of Protection to American Industry indebted for what has been accomplished—for what has been saved—but to Republicans? The leading advocates of Protection on the floor of the House—Schenck, Kelley, Maynard, Burdett, Hoar, and others—are Republicans, while its most ultra and uncompromising opponents are Brooks, Cox, Wood, and other Democrats. The only two members of the House willing to acknowledge themselves absolute Free Traders are Democrats—Cox and Mungen. True, several Pennsylvania Democrats have stood by their convictions and the interests of their constituents, while a number of Republicans from other States have as steadily voted against Protection. But the fact remains that the friends of Protection in the House are mainly Republicans, while its enemies are mainly Democrats. The bill of General Schenck, not having passed the House, has of course not been discussed in the Senate, but it is noteworthy that the only speeches made in that body during the present session on the general subject of Protection were delivered by Senators Cameron and Scott, of Pennsylvania, and Senator Morrill, of Vermont—all Republicans. If, therefore, the Republicans in Congress, as a body, have not accomplished all that the friends of a Protective Tariff have expected, they have presented such an array of arguments and votes as to prevent the passage of a virtual Free Trade Tariff. Is this nothing? Is it nothing to have saved the Protective Tariff laws now on our statute books, which, you would do well to remember, are the fruits of Republican legislation? Is it nothing to have withstood successfully the blandishments and the bullying of the most determined Free Trade assault ever made by English manufacturers and New York importers on the integrity and intelligence of Congress?

No, sir! The Republicans in Congress are not to blame for any failure to enact additional safeguards for the protection of our home industries. Against a subsidized press in many of our large cities; against subsidized and debauched newspaper reporters; against a hostile Associated Press organization; against a powerful Free Trade lobby, which has swarmed about the hotels at Washington and the cloak-rooms of the House of Representatives all Winter and Spring; against the sophistries and the treachery of Commissioner Wells; against even the coolness and indifference of professed friends, the majority of the Republican members of Congress have been true to the best interests of American workingmen through all these long and weary months. They have stood like a Grecian phalanx between the people who sent them here and their allied foreign and mercenary American free trade enemies, and they have conquered, for they have saved the protective policy from the long-meditated and deliberate blow which was intended to crush it.

You concede, sir, that while this tremendous combat was raging, you, and other manufacturers as directly and largely interested in the result as yourself were far from the scene of strife, carefully attending to your own private affairs, and enjoying the comfort of your own firesides. You committed your fate and the best interests of the whole country to a few faithful representatives charged with many other weighty concerns, and always overworked, who received no aid from you in instructing and leading your friends and in combatting your foes. Looking back upon the varying phases of the strife, and recognizing that great peril has been happily averted, can you say that you did your duty? Is it fair or just, at this time, for you and other eminent Republicans, who have written me letters similar to yours, to denounce Congressmen who have defied the obloquy in the defense of threatened industries, and, after exhausting their salaries, have drawn upon their private means to sustain the cause which you have so much at heart; or is it fair or just to assail the party organization which gave them the office and authority, enabling them to render to you and the country such great service?

I have wondered if the men who have written me complaining or angry letters concerning the course of Congress upon the Tariff ever went into primary election to secure the nomination of fit men for office, or took pains to instruct and sustain them after they were elected, or busied themselves with the education of the people in such a way that sound views and earnest sentiments might be of force in the councils of the nation, or, if they minded their own private business, went to dinner at a regular hour, left political matters pretty much to chance or to the management of others, and then abused everybody heartily if everything did not go precisely as they wished.

It is not yet too late to correct mistakes and make the success of the protective policy a fact as fixed and unalterable as the death of slavery or the overthrow of the rebellion. What is required is agitation and discussion. If members of Congress from the West and South, who owe their political elevation to their war records, are unfamiliar with the arguments in favor of a protective tariff and unprepared to meet the sophistries of free traders, how much more unfamiliar and unprepared must be the masses of their constituents, whose only education on this subject has been in the direction of free trade. I would not undervalue the intelligence of any of my colleagues from the South and West, nor that of their constituents, but the doctrine of protection is practically new to them, and must be patiently studied to be fully understood. Hence agitation is necessary. To accomplish this, through organization of all the industrial interests of the country, is first of all necessary, and I am hopeful that movements already inaugurated will soon produce this result. The newspaper press which has resisted free trade influences should be liberally sustained, and able lecturers should speak directly to the people in every election district throughout the Southern and Western States. Most especially should the champions of protection in the present Congress be aided to meet the free trade attack with which they are already threatened. The friends of protection should seek opportunity to show their gratitude to such men as Schenck and Bingham of Ohio, Blair of Michigan, Kelley of Pennsylvania, Maynard of Tennessee, and that brave representative of a noble State never yet true to herself, Burdett of Missouri. The instincts of the people everywhere are right, but free traders have been so active in circulating such mercenary journals as the New York Evening Post, Missouri Democrat, and Chicago Tribune, and filling the field with plausible lecturers against protection, that great effort will be required to undo the evil they have accomplished. Pennsylvania and her sister States of the East, will, I hope, assist with a generous liberality this labor of educating the people to distinguish truth from falsehood and to act in such a way as to advance their best interests and insure the prosperity of the whole country. Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty and of industrial safety, and if States heretofore prosperous under a policy which has protected their industries would have that prosperity continue, and see it extended to their younger sisters of the South and West, they must see to it instantly that the next Congress does not fall into the hands of their enemies.

I believe it to be the destiny of the Republican party that it shall continue in existence as long as there is a great wrong to be uprooted or need of a true patriotism to be inculcated, and in meeting this new issue of protection or free trade its humanity and patriotism are alike invoked. The American people must decide whether they will protect the industry of the whole country, or commit themselves to a foreign policy which leads to poverty and barbarism. I do not fear their decision. They will sustain the Republican party, and in sustaining it they will sooner or later establish industrial independence and cover the land with blessings.

If, here and there, in the struggle that is sure to come, Republicans who have been educated in the school of free trade shall drop out of our ranks or go over to the enemy, we will gain from that portion of the laboring masses heretofore opposed to us, recruits who will more than make good our losses, and who will bring over to our side from the workshop and the field an army of courageous supporters of the cause of American Industry. I am, Sir,

Very respectfully, yours, &c.,

D J MORRELL.

THE LIFE SUSTAINING ORGAN.

The two organs which minister most directly to the support of the body are the stomach and liver. In the former the first process of digestion takes place, under the action of that powerful solvent, the gastric juice. Thence the food, controverted into a pulp, passes into the duodenum, where it is subjected to the action of the bile or gall, flowing from the liver, and of the fluid generated from the pancreas, or sweetbread of the system. These secretions separate the nutritious portions from the rest, and it is then taken up by the absorbent vessels and conveyed into the channels of circulation in the form of venous blood, while the waste matter is discharged through the bowels. Unless all these processes are duly performed, disease of some sort is inevitable, and the best of all medicinal agents for preserving or restoring the tone and regulating the action of the three organs—(the stomach, liver and intestines)—by which the threefold work is carried on, is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Indigestion is generally accompanied by constipation, and the gentle cathartic operation of the Bitters is no less important in cases of this kind, than its tonic effect upon the stomach and the biliary gland. Beauty of person as well as health, depends in no small degree upon the regularity of the excretive functions. A sallow complexion, a thick opaque coarse skin, a tainted breath, rush of blood to the head, loss of memory, headache, and extreme mental depression, are the usual accompaniments of costiveness. A course of the Bitters will infallibly relieve, and finally banish these obnoxious symptoms while invigorating the stomach and promoting healthy action in the liver. This genial vegetable stomachic and alterative, strikes at disease in its primary sources, the assimilating, secretive and expulsive organs, and the cures it effects are consequently thorough and complete.

DR. WHITTIER

CONTINUES TO TREAT ALL PRIVATE DISEASES, Syphilis in all its forms, all urinary diseases, and the effects of mercury are completely eradicated; Spermatorrhea or Seminal Weakness and Impotency, resulting from self-abuse or other causes, and which produce some of the following effects as blotches, bodily weakness, indigestion, consumption, aversion to society, unmanliness, dread of future events, loss of memory, indolence, nocturnal emissions, and finally so prostrating the sexual system as to render marriage unsatisfactory, and therefore imprudent, are permanently cured. Persons afflicted with these or any other delicate, intricate or long standing constitutional complaint should give the Doctor a trial; he never fails.

A particular attention given to all Female complaints, Leucorrhea or Whites, Falling, Inflammation or Ulceration of the Womb, Ovaritis, Pruritis, Amenorrhoea, Menorrhagia, Dysmenorrhoea, and Sterility or Barrenness, are treated with the greatest success.

It is self-evident that a physician who confines himself exclusively to the study of a certain class of diseases and treats thousands of cases every year must acquire greater skill in that specialty than one in general practice.

The Doctor publishes a medical pamphlet of fifty pages that gives a full exposition of venereal and private diseases that can be had free at office or by mail for two stamps, in sealed envelopes. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and enabling them to determine the precise nature of their complaints.

The establishment, comprising ten ample rooms, is central. When it is not convenient to visit the city, the Doctor's opinion can be obtained by giving a written statement of the case, and medicines can be forwarded by mail or express. In some instances, however, a personal examination is absolutely necessary, while in others daily personal attention is required, and for the accommodation of such patients there are apartments connected with the office that are provided with every requisite that is calculated to promote recovery, including medicated vapor baths. ALLEGHENY CATTLE MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
MONDAY, June 6, 1870.

CATTLE.

Following shows the number of cattle on sale, the points at which they were shipped, and the names of the shippers:

Sol Shamberg, Chicago	2 cars
S. Marks & Bro., Chicago	2 cars
P. Hartman, Chicago	1 car
M. Varner, Chicago	1 car
Haas & Kraus, Chicago	1 car
E. Katz, Chicago	1 car
Marks & Haas, Chicago	1 car
L. & J. Shamberg, Chicago	1 car
Greenwald & Kahn, Milford, Ohio	2 cars
Greenwald & K. Wooster	3 cars
John Heyl, Wooster	1 car
Traurman & Lobman, Crestline	2 cars
J. & S. Needy, Newark	3 cars
N. C. Holler, Newark	1 car
John Aull, Orrville	1 car
W. Warner, Enon Valley	1½ do
Prepaid	4 cars
Total	28½
Total last week	30

Twenty-eight and a half car loads containing 18 head to the car, would make an aggregate of 515 head, and there were fully 110 head driven in from Washington, Butler and other adjoining counties, so that the whole number on sale footed up something like 625 or 630 head which in the absence of any inquiry from the east, was fully up to the demand. In fact, the market was very slow and sluggish, and the quality was not up to the usual standard, there being a much larger proportion of common and medium and fewer prime cattle. The number of grass cattle on sale to-day was unusually large, and indeed with the exception of about dozen car loads from Chicago, they were nearly all grassers; compared with last week, common and medium grades are from ½ to 1 cent per pound lower, and prime are are also down, though not so much, say ¼ to ½ of a cent. There is not much doubt, however, but what those who sold the cheapest cattle made the most money, as they cost much less relatively than the better grades; in fact we have reason to believe that those who had the lower grades made some money, while those who had prime to extra made little if anything, and some of them reported that they would come out behind.

As will be seen by reference to the report of sales prices ranged all the way from 6 to 9⅞ cts, and there were some few sold even above the outside quotation. There was one car load in market, sold by Marks Bro., which cost 9⅛ cents in Chicago, or fully 10 cts here. There was some inquiry for stock cattle, and sales were made at 5@6 cts.

We understand that the number of cattle in Washington and Green counties is unusually large, many stock growers having sold off their sheep and turned their attention to cattle, and from this time out we may expect liberal arrivals every week from these as well as other adjoining counties, and a diminished number from the west. It begins to look as if the market had been broken and that henceforward lower prices will be the order of the day.

Sam Lowensteine sold 10 head of Washington Co. steers, at 8@8½; 13 bulls at an average of 5⅛.

S. Kraus sold 8 head of Washington Co. heifers averaging about 1,000 lbs, at 6@7 cts.

Rothchilds & Zeigler 40 head Washington Co. stock, at 7@8⅛.

Peter Hartman sold 18 head from Chicago, at 7½@8⅛—lost plenty of money.

Chas. Boyer sold 18 head of mixed stock, at 6½@8⅛.

M. Varner sold 36 head of steers, from Chicago, at 7½@8⅛.

Sol Shamberg 35 head mixed stock from Chicago, at 7⅛@8.40—reports having lost money.

Traurman & Lobman 33 good to extra Ohio steers, at 8@9⅛.

L. Keefer 18 head of Washington Co. stock, at 7@7⅛.

J. & S. Needy sold 50 head of fair to extra Ohio steers, at 7@9 cts.

E. Katz 20 head steers, from Chicago, at 7½@8⅛.

Hazlewood & Blackstock had 90 head of mixed stock, about one-half "grassers" at 6@9 cts.

S. Marks & Bro. sold 58 head including one car load of fancy, the best in market, on private terms; excepting these, this firm sold at 7@8⅛.

Nicholas Carr sold 17 head good grassers, at 7⅛@8.

Holmes, Lafferty & Co., sold 38 head of mixed Ohio stock, at 6@7⅛; 11 head from Indiana Co. (Penna.) 5.87@6.25.

Emerick & Co. sold 11 head of Ohio stock at 7@8⅛.

L. & J. Shamberg sold 20 head of Chicago stock, at 8⅛@9⅛.

Joshua Garwin sold 13 head of fair to prime Butler Co. stock, at 6@8.

Stakely Bro. sold 5 head bulls, at 4½ cts.

Greenwald & Kahn 90 head mixed stock, at 5@9 cts.

SHEEP AND LAMBS.

Were again in good supply to-day close on to 1,500 head, which in the absence of eastern buyers, was considerably in excess of the demand, and the market was very slow, and the commoner grades considerably low. Prime fat sheep, of which there was but a comparatively small number on sale, sold at about last week's prices, 6 to 6⅛c, and one bunch of fancy, averaging something like 140 lbs, brought 8⅛. Very good sheep, however, were sold at 5 and 5⅛c, and many of the good butchers did not go above these figures. Lambs were also in good supply and many of them of an inferior grade; we quote at $1.75@4.50 per head, as to quality and condition.

M. Flinner 125; lambs at $1@2½ per head; sheep at $3@4½.

Jacob Rinn sold 50 sheep, averaging about 88 lbs, at an average of 5½c per lb.

Stakely Bros 126 sheep and lambs at from $2 to $4.25 per head.

Adam Eckert sold 84 lambs at $1.50@3 and 16 sheep at $3@4.

J. L. Badger 50 sheep and lambs sold at an average of $2.50 per head.

M. Humes sold 70 head of sheep and lambs at $2@3.50 per head.

S. A. Vandiver 110; sold sheep at $4, and lambs at $2@3.

John Beeler sold 100 head of mixed Butler Co. sheep at $2@4.

John Young sold 40 head of fair to prime sheep, from Butler Co. at $3@5 per head.

Meanor had 164 head sheep from Beaver Co. unsold at 10 A. M.

John Walters sold 60 sheep at $2@3½; lambs at $2@3½.

Jacob Emmell 175 sheep sold at $2½@5 per head.

Jonathan Davis sold 50 scalawag sheep at $2 per head.

John Drum sold 70 lambs, from Westmoreland Co., at $1.90@4.

Fairly and Moulton sold 47 head.

Neely & McMillian sold 90 lambs, from Armstrong Co., at $1.25@3.50.

Isaac Williams sold 50 sheep at an average of $3.25.

Emerick & Co. sold 20 head of extra sheep, averaging 140 lbs, to Tesh, at 8½.

HOGS.

There is little or no inquiry for this class of stock, and there never is at this season of the year, notwithstanding it is cheaper, relatively than cattle. The butchers cannot sell much frsh pork in hot weather, and, consequently, it takes but a small number to supply the retail trade. We quote at $9⅛@10⅛, in a retail way, as to quality and condition.

PITTSBURGH MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
MONDAY, June 7, 1870.

The markets in a general way, present but little that is really new or important There is no improvement to note in the grain business, and with continued liberal receipts, a very light local demand, and but little inquiry from the east, dealers are in many instances obliged to take into store, by which a good deal of trouble and expense is incurred, but there is no help for it at present. It does not take much to sicken this market, though there is this consolation, it generally recovers very speedily, and sometimes when it is least expected. We should not be surprised to see a reaction soon; the present depression will sooner or later cut down the receipts, and reduced arrivals are generally followed by an improved demand, and this in turn is succeeded by a stronger market and better prices. The expected falling off in the receipts is based on the supposition that the farmers will soon be so busily engaged on their farms that they will have no time to bring grain to market, and this is generally the case at this season of the year. As already intimated, however, there is no getting over the fact the grain business is very much depressed just now and has been for a week or more past. There is a continued steady demand for Sugars, which is owing mainly to the fact that there is every prospect of a big fruit crop, and the firmness noted last week is still maintained; otherwise the grocery market is dull. The Provisions market is quiet and unchanged.

APPLES—Season is over and we omit quotations.

BUTTER—Is dull and unchanged, 15@18 for good to prime.

BROOM Corn—Is dull and there is scarcely enough doing to establish quotations.

BROOM CORN—Demand very slow; prices nominally unchanged, 12 to 16c.

BROOMS—Store prices; Fancy, $5.50; No. 1, $4.50; No. 2, $4; No. 3, $3.50; Common, $2.50@3.

BEANS—Dull but nominally unchanged, $1.50@1.75 per bushel.

CHEESE—Is rather dull but unchanged. Ohio Goshen quoted at 15@15½, and Ohio Factory at 14@15.

CARBON OIL—There is no improvement in the demand and the market, if anything, is weaker. We now quote at 23½@24c for standard brands in a jobbing way.

CORNMEAL—Is dull but the stock is light and prices unchanged; 95@$1 per bushel.

CEMENT—Sales of Louisville Hydraulic at $2@3½ per bbl.

DRIED FRUIT—The stock of the better grades is pretty well reduced and there is little or no inquiry for any other kind. We continue to quote Apples at 5 to 6½ cents; Peaches, 6@7 for quarters, and 8@9 for halves.

EGGS—Unchanged. We are reported sales at 19@20, but 19 may be regarded as the ruling quotation.

FLOUR—Market firm but devoid of excitement, and prices are unchanged. We continue to quote western flours, in store, at $5,25@5,75 for spring wheat $5.50@6 for winter wheat and $7@7.50 for fancy brands. Rye flour, $5.

GRAIN—Wheat is unchanged, though weak; red, $1,12@1.15 for common to good, and $1,18 for choice. Oats if anything rather stronger, but unchanged; may be quoted at 47@48 in first hands, and 50@51 on wharf and track. Corn is excessively dull, the demand being unusually light and prices are weak and drooping; and very difficult to quote correctly, though 80@85, will probably cover the range. Rye is also dull, and 90 cts seems to be the best bid, and even at that there are not many buyers. Barley is seldom mentioned—but little offered and not much wanted.

GROCERIES—Sugars firm with a steady city and country demand, while Coffees, Syrups &c., &c., are quiet and unchanged. Following are the quotations: Sugars—Porto Rico, 10 for fair; 10⅛ for good and 11⅛@11⅜ for prime to choice. Crushed, 14⅛; A. Coffee, 13⅛; B., 13; Extra C. 12⅞; C. 12⅛; C. Yellow, 11. Coffee, 18½ for fair Rio; 20 for good, 21 for prime, and 22 for choice. Rice—Rangoon, 8⅛; Carolina, 9. New Orleans Molasses, 80@85.

HAY—There is no improvement to note in the demand, and the market is dull as ever and prices weak. We continue to quote at $10@15, as to quality.

HEMP—Sales of undressed Kentucky Hemp at $167.

HUSKS—Corn husks, 3@3¼ cts.

LARD OIL—No. 1 extra is quoted at $1.25@1.28, and No. 2 at 80@85.

LIME—Sales of Cleveland at $2,25 per bbl, and eastern at $1,75.

PROVISIONS—Market steady but with the exception of lard, which is a shade lower, there is no change in prices. Shoulders, 13⅛ for plain; 15½ for sugar canvassed; Ribbed sides, 17; Clear sides, 18@18⅛. Breakfast Bacon, 18⅛. Dried Beef higher, 22@22⅛. Lard, 16⅛ in tierces and 17⅛@17⅛ in kegs and buckets.

PEANUTS—Dull. Tennessee, 8@9 cts.

PEARL BARLEY—No. 4, 5⅛c per lb; No. 3, 5⅛; No. 1, 6⅛. Oat Meal—A & B per bbl. of 200 lbs, $10; for half bbl. 100 lbs. $5.50.

POTATOES—Prime Peach Blows are scarce and in demand with small sales, at 45@50, but common and inferior are not wanted at any price.

SEEDS—Flaxseed is in steady demand, at $2.20. No demand for Clover or Timothy Seeds.

RIVER NEWS.

The river remains unchanged at this point with 3½ feet in the channel by the Monongahela marks.

The Petrolia, for Wheeling, was the only departure.

The Wauanita and Mary davage, are still loading for St. Louis and will leave on the first rise.

The Belle, Capt. J. P. Smith, is the regular packet for Brownsville and Geneva this evening, leaving at 5 o'clock. McElroy & Co. are her agents. The Belle pays particular attention to way business.

—The river is still on the rise, though more gradually. The Hiram Wood, laden with private freight, left yesterday afternoon for Niobrara and the Sauntee Agency. The Sioux City leaves this afternoon for Yankton and Fort Randall. The N. Alabama left at 8.30 A. M., with a very heavy cargo of government stores for Fort Buford. The Miner, Ackley and Huntsville, are expected from above to-day.—Sioux City Times 1st.

—We clip the following from the Sunday Cincinnati Commercial: Among the Arlington's passengers from Pittsburgh, we notice Jos. Fairley, Ed. T. Steel, Moses Herron, grain dealers in the "Smoky City," and Capt. Boyd, the veteran commander of the old Tribune and Tiber.

—The Louisville Courier of Saturday says: The Glendale, Captain J. D. Hare from St. Louis to Pittsburgh, with 25 barrels of whitening for this city, thinking that the city wharf did not need whitewashing, took her whitening over to Jeffersonville, thereby avoiding wharfage.

—Mountain Boats Passed Omaha.—The Ida Reese No. 2 passed up April 8th; Nick Wall, April 17th; Emily Labarge, April 24th; Viola Belle, April 24th; Far West, May 2d; Peninah, May 3d; Sallie, May 4th; Ida Stockdale, May 12th.

—There is a lively competition going on between the Evansville, Paducah and Cairo packets, by which Capt. Dexter is seeking to drive the Idlewild from the trade in order that he may secure a monopoly.—Paducah Herald.

—Gen. Sheridan and party, besides several ladies of Helena, were waiting several days at Benton to take the first boat for down the river, which they thought would be the Deer Lodge; of course they went on the Nick Wall.

—The Louisville Courier says: Captain DeHaven, of the Mississippi Valley Navigation Company, is in Madison to contract for the machinery for the first one of his new boats. The hull will probably be built at Cincinnati.

—The Memphis Avalanche, of Friday, says: The Marble City, which passed down last night, reports the Great Republic hard aground at Island 34. The Republic is bound for New Orleans and is heavily loaded.

—Capt Frank Marratta has purchased one half of the Leonidas at the rate of $17,000 for the whole boat.

—The Cumberland river was still rising on Saturday with 12 feet on Harpeth Shoals.

—The Arlington passed down over the falls at Louisville yesterday morning.

—The Camelia arrived at St. Louis on Saturday.

THE DAILY GAZETTE.

HOME NEWS.

A very interesting letter from the gifted pen of W. W. Ward, Esq., will be found on our first page.

It is not improbable that the next annual meeting of the Western Associated Press will be held in this city.

This morning, about half-past 2 o'clock, an alarm of fire was struck from Box 62, located near the Fair Grounds, but owing to the lateness of the hour we were unable to learn the particulars.

Home.—The Pittsburgh delegates to the Western Associated Press, with accompanying ladies, yesterday returned home from their excursion to Kentucky. They express themselves as highly delighted with the trip.

Wife Whipping.—John Johnson, a resident of the Third ward, was fined thirty dollars yesterday by Mayor Callow, for whipping his wife.

The police are also looking for Jackson Prophater for the same offense.

A Story is told of the loss of a pocketbook containing $24,000 at the Union depot yesterday and the subsequent finding of it by a young man who returned it to the owner, and refused to take $1,000 reward for his honesty, being easily satisfied with $500. That's the way the story runs.

Accident.—A little girl while playing on Smithfield street last night was severely injured by a piece of iron falling from a window under which she was playing. She was picked up and carried into Dr. Rosenbachs' drug store, the expert proprietor of which skillfully dressed the wound and restored the little sufferer to consciousness.

The Board of Directors of the Third and Fifth ward Public schools held a meeting last night, John Kelly Esq., presiding and Mr. Charles B. Strain officiating as Secretary. A resolution offered by David Sims Esq., requesting the Central Board of Education to authorize the Grant sub-district Board to employ a teacher to instruct the scholars in the German language was adopted. This movement will doubtless be followed by others in the same direction in the different school districts.

Post 88, G. A. R., at a recent meeting passed resolutions of thanks to the following named young ladies for their kindness in furnishing and arranging flowers for Decoration Day: Misses Mollie Blakely, Fanny and Alice McCune, Lizzie Clark, Maggie Elliott, Maggie McCormick, Lizzie Murdoch, Miss Randolph, and Miss Hawthorn. Votes of thanks were also adopted in acknowledgments for favors received on the celebration day, to Professor Avery, L. O. Loffell, quartermasters Benner and Randolph, and Mr. Wagstaff.

Presbyterian Female College.

A joint meeting of the Committees on Location and Funds for the proposed Presbyterian Female College was held yesterday afternoon in the library of the First Presbyterian Church, Wood street. Nothing new was developed further than last meeting. The Committee on Funds reported progress and enlargement. Although the work had not been fairly commenced, they had secured some money and felt confident of the result. The Committees, after a conference, adjourned for two weeks.

Obituary.

Several days ago we noticed the death of Mr. Charles T. Ihmsen, one of our best known citizens and manufacturers. Mr. I. had been suffering with what seemed to be a slight stroke of paralysis, and in order to recover his health visited the Hot Springs of Arkansas. That treatment did him no good, and he gradually sunk till the 29th inst., when death ensued. His body was brought to the city yesterday via the Pan Handle route, and the funeral is announced to take place this afternoon. The deceased was an agreeable, courteous, charitable and kind-hearted gentleman, who, in an unostentatious way, did much good in alleviating the pains and softening the pangs of distress and poverty, and his loss will be deeply mourned by a large circle of warm personal friends.

About Hats.

It is not as generally known as it should be that we have here in our midst a practical and thoroughly expert manufacturer of silk hats of all patterns, qualities and descriptions, and one whose workmanship is equal to the finest importations. We refer to Mr. George L. Troupe, who has succeeded in building up a very large trade in his line, both wholesale and retail, and in establishing a very high reputation for himself and his manufactory. He makes to order in any shape or style, and using the conformeter guarantees perfect fits in all cases. Employing none but the most finished artists, and giving personal supervision to all his work, and besides being a courteous and fair-dealing gentleman, we can recommend him to our readers as eminently worthy patronage and deserving of an increase of the success and prosperity which has thus far attended his establishment at No. 65 Fifth avenue, second story.

Personals.

A son of Sir Morton Peto, of England, a decidedly clever and accomplished young gentleman, who is making a tour through this country, is expected shortly to arrive in Pittsburgh to inspect our public parks and workshops.

Rev. Father O'Rourke, late of Kittaning, and familiarly termed the Chaplain of the A. V. Railroad, has been called to preside over the Catholic Mission at the Point in this city. He is an able and zealous pastor, and his withdrawal from Kittaning was deeply regretted by both Catholics and Protestants.

Rev. Dr. Douglas left for Washington city yesterday for a short visit.

Manager Canning at last accounts was luxuriously domiciled for the summer at Long Branch.

J. G. Siebeneck, Esq., of the Chronicle, would not permit his name to be again used for directorship in the Western Press Association, and hence, was not re-elected.

Fatal Accident.

An accident occurred on the farm of Mr. George Miller, in Hampton township, Saturday, which resulted in the death of Mr. George Armstrong. Mr. Miller was building a frame farm and had collected a number of his neighbors to help him to raise it Saturday. The second "bent" had been raised to its proper position, and several men were left to keep it in position while the others went to get some center timbers. One of the "pike polls," it appears, was in the way of those who were carrying the center timbers, and some one called out to remove it. The order was misunderstood and all the polls were removed from the bent, when it fell and caught Mr. Armstrong under it, crushing him fearfully. The accident occurred at half-past ten o'clock and he died at five. Justice Hardy, of Hampton township, held an inquest on the body and a verdict of accidental death was rendered. The deceased was fifty years of age, and was unmarried. He lived with his sister on the farm adjoining that of Mr. Miller.

First Class Wholesale Grocery.

We invite special attention of our commercial readers, in town and country, to the advertisement of John S. Dilworth & Co., wholesale grocers, Nos. 130 and 132 Second avenue, Pittsburgh. The senior partner in this firm has been actively and largely engaged in this business since 1840. No other house now in vogue among us dates back so far; no other house has enjoyed a more extensive trade with city and country, and no house has possessed or deserved more highly than this, the entire confidence of its numerous customers and correspondents.

Under the new arrangements of the firm, additional facilities will be secured, that cannot fail to benefit both the firm and its customers. The senior Mr. Dilworth has established his residence in the east, and will be at all times ready to avail himself of opportunities to purchase by cargo or otherwise, in all the seaboard markets, for the house here. His thorough knowledge of the local trade of this city, the result of thirty years' experience, will give to this house peculiar advantages in supplying and replenishing the stock for the home sales.

Mr. Will P. Dilworth will devote his whole time to the oversight of the Pittsburgh house. He will be assisted by Mr. G. Bilderback, an old favorite with the customers, who, after representing some time the importing house of Howell, Barr & Co., New York, has returned to renew his old intimacies with the friends of J. S. Dilworth & Co. Mr. James Fenesy, formerly of the house of Means & Coffin, also Mr. Finsthwait, will be found in the sales department, all of them capable, courteous and efficient. The high character of this favorite old firm—its ample capital and its extensive and admirable external and internal arrangements for a large business, we have no doubt will be appreciated and richly rewarded by an intelligent business community.

THE FIRE COMMISSION.

Meeting Last Evening—Appointment of Foremen.

The Fire Commissioners held a meeting last evening at their rooms on Fourth avenue, for the purpose of making the appointments of officers and men for the several engines and hook and ladder trucks. The appointments have not yet been announced, but we learn from a creditable source that the following named persons have been appointed foremen: A. J. Cupples, Andrew Sims, John Hamil, Thomas Cuningham, John Wrigley and Nelson Woods, foremen of steamers; William Sims and John Smith, foremen of hook and ladder trucks.

Other appointments were made, but we were unable to learn who they were.

SHOOTING AFFRAY.

Serious Affray at Ormsby Grove—Two Men Shot and One of Them Probably Fatally Wounded.

An affray of a serious nature occurred at Ormsby Grove, on the south side of the Monongahela river, yesterday evening, by which two men were seriously, and one of them perhaps fatally, injured. Yesterday was a grand German holiday, being the Fifth Monday after Easter Sunday, and a pic-nic was held at Ormsby Grove. As is customary on such occasions, there were a large number of kegs of beer taken to the Grove, which were returned to the brewery empty, and as a natural consequence when a large quantity of beer is circulating in a company of that character, somebody got drunk. In this instance John Little appeared to be the man to whom the largest quantity of beer had been transferred from the kegs, and he was belligerent. He had a loaded revolver with him, and becoming offended at some one, it is alleged, he drew the pistol from his pocket and fired, the ball passing through Mr. John Daniels' arm, and then struck Bartholomew Glingler in the abdomen. Daniels' wound, although a very painful one, is not considered serious, but the other may perhaps prove fatal. Both the wounded men made information before Justice Heisel, charging Little with felonious assault and battery. He was arrested and held to bail for his appearance at Court.

Also an ordinance granting same privilege to Tomlinson & McKee.

The ordinances were adopted under a suspension of the rules.

Mr. Shipton presented the report of the Committee on Gas Lighting, as follows:

Gentlemen—Your Committee on Gas Lighting have had before them the petition of P. McCoskey, asking the use of the gas lamp posts for advertising purposes, and agreeing to pay a reasonable compensation therefor.

Your committee, after examination of the subject, would respetfully recommend the granting of the privilege, and the fixing of the compensation at one dollar for each post used.

Accompanying the report was a resolution authorizing the Controller to contract with McCoskey in accordance with the above.

The report was received, and the resolution adopted.

Mr. Shipton, chairman of the Gas Committee, presented the following:

To the Select and Common Councils of the City of Pittsburgh:

Gentlemen: Your Committee on Gas Lighting would respectfully recommend the erection of gas lamps at the following points: One (1) on the corner of Fourth avenue and Ferry street; one (1) on Pasture street, between Elm and Logan streets; three on Crawford street, between Center avenue and Reed street; two on Arthurs street, between Center and Wylie avenues; one on Overhill street, corner of Haffer's alley; one on Bluff street, between VanBraam and Miltenberger streets; one on Franklin street, between Fulton and Townsend streets; one on Franklin street, between Townsend and Logan streets; one on north side of Liberty, between Seventeenth and Twentieth streets; one on the northeast corner of Spring alley, between 25th and 26th streets, and one on the north side of Third avenue eighty feet below Ferry street.

The report was received and the recommendations adopted.

Mr. Kirk presented the report of the Committee on the Allegheny Wharf, setting forth the fact of the disappearance of the Allegheny Wharfmaster, (an account of which was published exclusively in this paper some days since,) asking that the office be declared vacant, for which purpose a resolution accompanied the report.

A motion was made to adopt the resolution.

Mr. McCarthy said that Mr. Hill was present and ready to answer any charges that might be brought against him, and he thought it would be unjust for Council to act rashly in the matter.

Mr. Kirk stated that Mr. Hill had neglected his duties and had failed to make a return to the Controller.

Accompanying the report was a resolution providing for the appointment of a Committee to take charge of the "Point," with a view of making a park of it.

Mr. Murdoch said that it struck a member from the rural districts as a strange location for a park, under the smoke of rolling mills, glass houses, &c.

Mr. Morrow thought the Point should be improved, but he was not in favor of making it a park. He moved to amend by substituting the word "city" instead of "park," so that the resolution would read "for city purposes."

Mr. Herron moved to amend by referring the matter to a special committee in connection with the City Engineer, with instructions to report back to Councils.

Mr. Hartman moved to lay the amendments on the table. Adopted.

The question recurred on the resolution, which was adopted.

Mr. E. P. Jones, Chairman of the Committee on Roads, presented the report of the Committee. The report was received and a resolution for the payment of the claim of Mr. Duffy out of the Contingent fund was adopted.

The resolution was adopted.

Mr. Morrow presented a report from the committees on Railroads and Monongahela Wharf jointly relative to the construction of a track and depot buildings by the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railroad Company on the Monongahela Wharf, a report of which we previously published.

Mr. Isaac Jones thought it throwing away time to pass this ordinance, as it was illegal and Councils could not grant the rights and privileges asked for.

Mr. Burgwin had great respect for the gentleman's legal opinions, but he thought Councils would not lose anything by passing this ordinance. The city granted nothing but what it had a right to grant, and if there was any loss it would be on the part of the company. Council would be safe in leaving this question to the Railroad Company.

The ordinance provides that the privilege be granted for a period of ten years, at an annual rental of $3,000.

Mr. Phillips moved to amend by striking out the words "ten years," and make the grant perpetual. The amendment was adopted.

Mr. S. J. Wainwright moved to lay the ordinance over for one month and have it printed. Laid on the table.

The question then recurred on the adoption of the ordinance, which was passed finally.

Mr. Phillips presented an ordinance granting the right of way to the A. V. R. R. Company over certain streets, from Railroad street to Liberty street. Passed to a second reading.

Mr. Kirk offered a resolution to lay the ordinance on the table.

Mr. McCarthy moved to lay the resolution on the table. Adopted.

Mr. Phillips moved the third reading and final passage of the ordinance.

Mr. Kirk opposed the ordinance. He thought the matter should lay over until next meeting. He said it was evident that the friends of the measure had "seen" the members of Council, while the other side had no opportunity of investigating the matter.

Mr. McCarthy said he thanked the gentleman for the compliment he had just paid the honesty of the members of Council, but for his part he had not been "seen," and when he voted he would not do so blindly.

Mr. Liddell moved that the ordinance be printed and referred to the Railroad and Street Committees.

Mr. McCarthy moved to lay the motion on the table.

Mr. Liddell called for the yeas and nays with the following result:

Ayes—Messrs. Armstrong, Bissell, Brown, Coffin, Duncan, Edwards, Glenn, Hartman, Herron, House, Isaac Jones, Kehew, Laufman, Little, Lloyd, Morrow, Murdock, Murray, McEwen, McMeal, Phillips, Rees, Rush, Seeley, Shipton, Thompson, Z. Wainwright, Wilson—29.

Nays—Messrs. Ahl, Ahlborn, Burgwin, Devlin, Friday, Gross, Kirk, Liddell, McMahon, Schmidt, Scully, S. J. Wainwright, White—13.

So the resolution was laid on the table.

Mr. Phillips said that he did not come here for the purpose of rushing the ordinance through Council. He offered the ordinance with the plans proposed. He did not like Mr. Kirk's way of log-rolling for the purpose of defeating measures. He met them on this floor openly and fought them fairly. The ordinance was intended as a benefit to the city more than to the railroad company. It contemplated the relieving of the immense business on Pike street.

Mr. Kirk, in explanation, stated that he had no personal feeling in the matter; that what he had done was in the honest discharge of his duties.

Mr. Kirk moved that the ordinance be postponed for one month, and that it be printed.

Mr. McCarthy moved to lay on the table.

Mr. Phillips asked leave to correct a false statement. The gentleman, Mr. Kirk, had stated the Allegheny Valley road had a connection with the Pennsylvania road, which was false.

Mr. Kirk—I ask, Mr. President, that the gentleman be called to order, and required to recall that assertion. There is other language he can use without calling me a liar.

Mr. Phillips—The statement was false Mr. President, and I reiterate it.

Mr. Kirk—I ask the protection of this Council. Outside of it I can protect myself.

The vote then recurred on the motion of Mr. McCarthy to lay on the table the motion of Mr. Kirk, on which the yeas and nays were called with the following result:

Ayes—Messrs. Aiken, Armstrong, Bissell, Brown, Coffin, Duncan, Edwards, Friday, Glenn, Hartman, Herron, House, Jones, Kehew, Laufman, Littell, Lloyd, Morrow, Murdoch, Murray, McEwen, McCarthy, Phillips, Rees, Rush, Seeley, Shipton, Thompson, Z. Wainwright, Wilson—30.

Nays—Messrs. Ahl, Ahlborn, Burgwin, Devlin, Gross, Kirk, Liddell, McMahon, Schmidt, Scully, S. J. Wainwright, White—12.

Mr. McCarthy then renewed the motion to suspend the rules and pass the ordinance finally.

Mr. Kirk called for the yeas and nays with the following result:

Yeas—Messrs. Aiken, Armstrong, Bissell, Brown, Burgwin, Coffin, Duncan, Edwards, Friday, Glenn, Gross, Hartman, Herron, House, Isaac Jones, Kehew, Laufman, Littell, Lloyd, Morrow, Murdock, Murray, McEwen, McCarthy, Phillips, Rees, Rush, Scully, Seeley, Shipton, Thompson, Z. Wainright, Wilson—33.

Nays—Messrs. Ahl, Ahlborn, Devlin, Kirk, Liddell, McMahon, Schmidt, S. J. Wainright Wilson—9.

So the motion was adopted, three-fourths of the members having voted in the affirmative, and the rules were suspended.

The question then recurred on the passage of the ordinance, upon which Mr. Kirk again called the yeas and nays, with the following result:

Ayes—Messrs. Aiken, Armstrong, Bissell, Brown, Burgwin, Coffin, Devlin, Duncan, Edwards, Friday, Glenn, Gross, Hartman, Herron, House, Jones Isaac, Kehew, Laufman, Littell, Lloyd, Morrow, Murdoch, Murray, McEwen, McCarthy, Phillips, Rees, Rush, Schmidt, Scully, Seeley, Shipton, Thompson, Wainwright, Z., Wilson, and President McAuley—37.

Nays—Messrs. Ahl, Ahlborn, Kirk, Liddell, McMahon, Wainwright, S. J., White—7.

So the ordinance was passed finally.

Mr. Burgwin offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Clerk issue no notice for meetings of Councils except as provided by the thirtieth rule of Councils, as amended, and that the messenger be instructed to serve no notices for meetings of this Council not issued by the Clerk.

OLD BUSINESS.

Mr. Edwards called up the ordinance granting the right of way over certain streets to the Pleasant Valley Railway Company, from the corner of Fifth avenue and Smithfield street to the Hand street bridge.

The ordinance was passed finally.

A resolution relative to the removal of the Farmers and Mechanics Turnpike Company's toll-gates outside of the city limits, passed in Common Council at a previous meeting, was taken up and the action of Common Council concurred in.

NEW BUSINESS.

Mr. Morrow presented an ordinance appointing a viewer on the opening of Forbes street. Read three times and passed under a suspension of the rules.

Mr. Brown, a petition relative to awnings. Referred to Street Committee.

Also, a petition relative to cattle brokers' license. Referred to Finance Committee.

Mr. Kirk, a resolution authorizing the clerk to furnish a copy of all matter to be printed in the Record to the publishers within a reasonable time after Council meetings. Adopted.

Mr. McEwen, a petition for grading, paving and curbing Peach alley. Referred to Committee on Streets.

Common Council.

At a quarter past two o'clock this branch was called to order, when the following members answered to the call of the roll:

Messrs. Arthurs, Barker, Barton, Batchelor, Beckman, Beymer, Black, Booth, Bradley, Cameron, Carroll, Caskey, Chalmers, Creegan, Daum, Diamond, Dietrich, Duff, Edwards, Faxon, Fedder, D. L. Fleming, John Fleming, Gazzam, Hare, Jahn, Jones, Kohne, Leonard, Lyons, Mitchell, Miller, Moore, Moorhead, McCoy, McGann, McKelvy, Negley, H. W. Oliver, Sr., H. W. Oliver, Jr., Pender, Preston, Schleiter, Schneider, Seibert, Seiferth, Seitz, Shidle, Shoeb, Sims, Smith, Sneathen, Snodgrass, Verner, Wallace, and President Tomlinson.

The minutes of the two preceding meetings were read and approved.

A MOOTED QUESTION.

The President—This being an adjourned regular meeting we'll take up business in regular order, commencing with the First ward.

Mr. Barton—I thought this was a special meeting. The call at least said so. It has been convened for the special business of considering the difficulty with the City Treasurer.

The President—We adjourned last meeting to meet to-day.

Mr. Barton—I thought you ruled that as a quorum was not present then, we could not adjourn because we could not meet.

The President—Well then, we'll take up the special business for which we have been gathered.

THE OPENING BALL.

Mr. Barton—In that case then, I have a paper here containing certain charges against the City Treasurer. It has been prepared with all the proper formalities and is presented in form. I need not rehearse what the difficulty to which I refer is as we all know that it has already been canvassed. I would, however read the law in the case first upon which these charges are based.

The gentleman then read the sections from the City Code in relation to the duty of officers and the power of Council in impeaching delinquents, and said "In accordance with that I submit the following paper, which is signed by the proper number of persons, and is legally prepared:

[This paper was the same as that published in the Gazette, May 30. In the form of a petition it reviewed the case of the city and Treasurer, and was accompanied by a series of resolutions, the following, which is the first, being the principal one upon which all the others rested:

"Resolved, That A. J. Cochran, Treasurer of the City of Pittsburgh, be placed upon trial upon the charges this day presented against him by Thos. S. Mitchell, O. J. McGann, Barclay Preston, Samuel Morrow, members of the Councils of said city, and that said trial be proceeded with, without unreasonable delay, as directed by section 3 of the ordinance of said city, passed March 29, 1869, relating to city officers."]

THE PAPER BEFORE COUNCIL.

When the reading of the paper had been concluded

Mr. Barton said: Now, Mr. President, I move the adoption of the paper and resolutions. I will now yield the floor to give any member an opportunity to be heard in the case, after which I shall call the yeas and nays, upon the adoption.

Mr. Hare—This matter is before the Court now, and wouldn't it be better to leave it until settled there. There's no use—

Mr. Morgan—I ask for information. The gentleman (Mr. Barton) has been reading section twenty-six of the city code, but he didn't read it all. If he will continue a little farther he will find that it says "the trial shall be fixed by ordinance." Now, I say this is no ordinance to fix this trial. Let the gentlemen present one.

Mr. Barton—If the gentleman will again read section three he will find that there is an ordinance there which gives the power. We don't need another.

MR. MORGAN READS LAW.

Mr. Morgan (after reading "No. 3" carefully)—Well I think that does not cover the case. It is only a city enactment, and I don't think it will take precedence of an act of Assembly. We must remember in this matter that the treasurer has rights, and we should not be too hasty in going ahead. As the matter is before the Courts, I think we'd better let it go until a decision is reached there. Then we can come at it intelligently. If we go ahead now, why Mr. Cochran appeals to Court, and if the decision of the Court is against us, then we'll be in a box.

I may say that the Finance Committee were unanimously of the opinion, when they considered this matter that Mr. Cochran was wrong, and should be impeached, but they also knew he had rights in the case, and they didn't want to push ahead, and probably have to go back again. They saw the trouble and wisely appointed a sub-committee, through whom it has been brought into court. I think it should first be settled there. If the court decides that the act is all right, then we all know what to do. I don't want to vote on that wholesale paper; some of the things in it are proper, and some I think are not; I think we'd better act cautiously.

Mr. Barton—Well, Mr. President, in reply to the gentleman I would say this matter is very plain, and it needs no lengthy argument to confuse it. The resolutions will explain themselves. I need not refer to the history of this case again. Now these resolutions show what we mean to do. They are in accordance with the law, and I think we are prepared to act.

Then, too, if the gentleman had examined the matter carefully he would have found that it was the duty of the Finance Committee to expel Mr. Cochran from his high office at once when he refused to do as directed by Councils, whose servant he is. For my part I don't see why they didn't do this. I don't see where they got the authority to go into court and have

THESE FARCICAL PROCEEDINGS.

But the members have all canvassed the matter, and show what they think, so I will now call—

Mr. Morgan—Hold on. I'd like to say

A WORD MORE.

The gentleman has said the Finance Committee should have deposed Mr. Cochran from his high office, and says we have law for it. Well, now, the law which provides for the exercise of that power by the committee is when the Treasurer is a defaulter. Is this the case now? Is it charged that Mr. Cochran's books are not square—that he is a defaulter? No, sir; on the contrary, everything is clear and plain, and no charge of irregularity can be made against him further than this difference of opinion. Now, I'm not here to defend him at all, but simply to say he has rights which we are bound to respect.

Then, too, these resolutions are too sweeping. Some of them I'll vote for and some I wont. If Mr. Cochran is in the wrong, I am as ready as any one to expel him. But let us get at that truth first.

Mr. Gazzam—Mr. President: this matter has gone on until we are in a pretty predicament. What is the state of the case? Why, simply this. We elect a man, who takes an important office, and then when we, as the representatives of the people, endeavor to control him, he wont be controlled. He refuses to obey our authority. I think we should go ahead now that we have begun, and test this. I am in favor of passing these resolutions, and making an end of the business.

Mr. Barton—As there has been some objection to Mr. Allfuder as a temporary Treasurer I will withdraw his name. That's an immaterial point. There seems, also, to be some of the resolutions which are objectionable. Then instead of taking them up as a whole, I'll call the yeas and nays on

THE FIRST RESOLUTION.

Mr. Batchelor—Well, now, there is a time for all things, and all things should come in time. Now I have no doubt my colleague (Mr. Barton) feels a little sore over this matter. He introduced the ordinance which is now in Court, and perhaps he is afraid it will be there decided illegal. I remember at the time I asked him if he thought it was legal when he presented it, and he seemed so confident that I was made to feel so too. There is no man at the bar whose opinion I value more highly, and the fact of his presenting the ordinance carried great weight.

Now you all know how that ordinance passed. It hung for awhile in Select Council and was endorsed by lawyers there. It was then passed to the Finance Committee and was referred to a committee of three lawyers who pronounced it all right. Now you know lawyers, like doctors, don't always agree. Since the matter has been investigated other lawyers have pronounced it illegal. Some of the leading men at our bar have that opinion. The matter is in the courts now and a decision will soon be rendered.

Therefore I shall oppose everything of this character just now until the courts have decided. Then I will be ready to proceed.

Mr. Gazzam thought the matter should be tested now.

Mr. Batchelor—Then, Mr. President, to test the matter I move that action be postponed until after the action of the Courts.

Mr. Barton—Can that be done? Is such a motion in order?

After some

in reference to the method of getting at a postponement, Mr. Batchelor's motion being ruled out by the Chair, Mr. Hare moved to postpone indefinitely, but almost immediately withdrew it.

The Chair then decided Mr. Batchelor's motion out of order, unless Mr. Barton's motion to call the yeas and nays was withdrawn.

Mr. Barton—I won't withdraw it. I think we should be prepared to face this case.

Mr. McKelvey—Well, then, Mr. President, I move to amend by considering the whole paper seriatim. This will get at the idea of Mr. Barton.

Mr. Barton accepted the amendment, and a vote being taken it was carried by a vote of 27 to 21.

MR. BARTON AGAIN "CALLS."

Mr. Barton—Now, Mr. President, I again call the yeas and nays in the passage of the first resolution.

THE TWO B.'S.

Mr. Batchelor—Before that vote is taken I wish to explain what mine will be. I don't say that I am not in favor of expelling Mr. Cochran, but I do say that I don't like these sweeping resolutions, and I don't believe this matter should be hurried through in—

Mr. Barton—[Sarcastically.]—Well, all we want is a vote. The gentleman should'nt be afraid to put himself on record and go before his constituents.

Mr. Batchelor, [sharply]—I am going to vote. I'm not afraid to go before my constituents. I don't care to hide what I do in this Council in that way. I am ready to vote when—

Mr. Barton—Well, then, captain, all we want is your vote now—

The President—Order, gentlemen, order. The call for the yeas and nays has been sustained. The clerk will get ready.

While the clerk was preparing

Mr. Jones rose and asked for information, whether, if Councils should decide to go on with this matter in advance of the Courts, they were not setting their wisdom up against that tribunal.

Several members, [opposed to the resolutions] "yes, yes; that's what we mean." Opposition, "nothing of the kind; we will bring it before the Court."

Mr. Jones, subsiding, [sarcastically.]—Well, that's all I thought. We're wiser than the Court. [Laughter.]

By this time the Clerk was ready, and the

END OF THE PLAY

began to approach as he called the roll upon the passage of the first resolution, which resulted as follows:

Yeas—Messrs. Barton, Booth, Bradley, Chalmers, Creegan, Faxon, Gazzam, Leonard, Lyons, Mitchell, Miller, Moore, Morgan, Moseley, McCoy, McKelvy, Negley, Pender, Preston, Schleiter, Schneider, Seibert, Sims, and Snodgrass—24.

Nays—Messrs. Arthurs, Albeitz, Barker, Batchelor, Beckman, Beymer, Black, Cameron, Carroll, Caskey, Daum, Diamond, Dietrich, Duff, Edwards, D. L. Fleming, J. Fleming, Hare, Jahn, Jones, Kohne, Moorhead, H. W. Oliver, Jr., H. W. Oliver, Sr., Shidle, Shoeb, Smith, Sneathen, Verner, Wallace, and Tomlinson, President—31.

The chair announced the vote and decided the motion lost. So the whole paper was tabled.

Mr. Batchelor—Mr. President, I now renew my motion to postpone this matter until the next regular meeting of Council.

The President—Put it in writing.

While Mr. Batchelor was drawing up his resolution a question sprung up between the President and Mr. McKelvey, in relation to the disposition of the paper—the Chair having decided that the first resolution destroyed the whole paper. Subsequently Mr. McKelvey was made to see it in this light too, when he resumed his seat.

Mr. Batchelor presented the following:

Resolved, That the resolutions in reference to the charges preferred against Mr. A. J. Cochran by Mr. Barton, be made the special order of councils at the first regular meeting after the decision of the court in the case submitted by the City Solicitor, by order of the Finance Committee.

Mr. Barton—That's not in order. You have just tabled my resolutions, and you can't act on a matter that has been disposed of.

The President—It is right of order unless you alter it. You might call up the resolutions at that meeting if you like, but you can't make it a condition of the resolution which you present.

Mr. Batchelor—Well I'll let it go. I don't care.

So the whole special business of the special session was disposed of, and after a brief respite Council proceeded to the consideration of less exciting matters.

MISCELLANEOUS BUSINESS TAKEN UP.

Mr. Carroll now presented an ordinance granting the Allegheny Valley Railroad Company the right of way on certain streets to the Pennsylvania Railroad. The ordinance was laid over.

THE ARSENAL GROUNDS.

Mr. Arthurs presented a lengthy petition authorizing the appointment of a committee of one from Select and two from Common Council to bring before Congress the matter of vacating the arsenal grounds, to be used by the city as a park ground.

Mr. McKelvey said that matter had been passed upon some time ago.

Mr. Mitchell said he had presented a similar petition some time ago, and it was published, upon which a committee had been appointed who had the matter in charge.

Mr. Arthurs then withdrew the paper.

Mr. Arthurs, a petition for the opening of an alley in the Eleventh ward. Referred to Street Committee.

Mr. Sims, an ordinance prohibiting the use of bells on street cars on Sunday. Laid over under the rules.

Mr. Batchelor, a resolution instructing the City Engineer to consult with the Pennsylvania Railroad in relation to the construction of an iron bridge over their track in the ravine in the Twentieth ward. Read three times and passed.

Mr. D. L. Fleming, a petition for a flag-stone crossing on Wylie avenue, between Logan and Elm streets. Referred to Street Committee, with power to act.

Mr. Daum, petition for gas lamp on Townsend street. Referred to Gas Committee.

Mr. Moorhead, remonstrance against opening of Granville street, Eleventh ward. Referred to Street Committee.

Mr. Oliver, Sr., a petition from John Beatty asking for abatement of assessment upon opening of Devilliers street—amount $160. Referred to Street Committee with power to act.

THE LOUISVILLE CANAL.

Mr. Oliver, Jr., presented the following:

Whereas, The early completion of the Louisville Canal will be of great advantage to our city, and to the people of the Ohio and Mississippi valleys, and will utilize and make profitable the large amount of money already expended on the work; therefore

Resolved, by the Select and Common Councils of the City of Pittsburgh, that we hereby respectfully memorialize Congress, and pray that they will speedily make an appropriation sufficient to complete the canal around the Falls of the Ohio; that our shipping and steam boat interests are partially paralized by the present delay and uncertainty; that the enlarged canal, allowing, as it will, the passage of steamers double the capacity of those now navigating the Ohio river, will tend to cheapen by one-half the transportation on our grain supplies from the West, and sugar and cotton from the South, and the coal and other products we exchange therefor—thus directly aiding the whole people of the West and South.

Resolved, That our Senators, Hon. Simon Cameron and Hon. John Scott, and our Representative, Hon. James S. Negley, are earnestly requested to present and urge our petition as it represents a matter of great importance not only to our city but to our State.

Mr. Oliver moved the adoption of the resolutions.

Mr. Morgan thought it was too late as the contract for the work had been let.

Mr. Oliver said that this was a mistake. That the work had been let only in proportion to the appropriation made and on the strength of an appropriation. Other towns were moving along the Ohio in the matter, and he thought Pittsburgh should take some action.

The resolutions were then passed finally.

Mr. Faxon presented a petition from Wm. Smith, of the National Foundry, asking privilege to erect an iron-clad addition to his works to fill the place of the one recently destroyed.

Mr. McGann a claim for damages from Patrick O'Neil, for damages done by the bursting of a water pipe.

Referred to the Street Committee.

Mr. Jones, petition for partial grading of Madison street. Also petition for grading of Boyd street. Referred to Street Committee.

Mr. Miller, an ordinance authorizing the reduction of water taxes in the Fifteenth and Seventeenth wards fifty per cent. He explained that during the day the people could not get any water—the supply failing from 6 o'clock in the morning until 7 o'clock in the evening. Referred to Water Committee.

Mr. Mitchell, a petition and ordinance fixing the width of sidewalks on Fortieth street. Petition filed. Ordinance read three times and passed.

Also petition and ordinance grading and paving of Trent alley. Read and accepted, and ordinance read three times and passed.

Also supplement to an existing ordinance, authorizing the construction of brick houses in the Sixteenth and Seventeenth wards in the same manner as though they were constructed of frame. [This had reference to the inside walls of buildings.] Laid over.

Mr. Seibert, petition and ordinance for repeal of ordinance for opening, grading and paving of Harrison street. Referred to Street Committee.

RESIGNATION.

The Chair read the resignation of Mr. Oliver Ferson as a member of Common Council, he having removed from the city. Accepted.

Mr. Negley offered a resolution authorizing a special election to fill the vacancy on Tuesday, June 21, 1870. Carried.

Mr. Barton, a petition for grading Roup street. Referred to Road Committee. Also, a petition from Samuel Hastings & Co., for payment of the amount due them for construction of a board walk in the Twentieth ward. Referred to Finance Committee.

The President read the resignation of Elliott C. Matthews, Salt Inspector. Accepted.

THE STREET COMMITTEE'S REPORT.

Mr. Arthurs presented the report of the street committee accompanied by the business which was disposed of as follows:

An ordinance for opening of Arch street, from Kirkpatrick to Cliff streets. Two petitions in favor of and one remonstrance against the same were presented. Considerable discussion ensued. Three different maps were presented each of which described a different route for the street. Finally the ordinance was referred back for review. Petition from J. B. Young for relief, which was referred to Finance Committee. Ordinance for grading and paving of Reed street; passed finally. Ordinance for grading and paving Twenty-fifth street; passed finally. Ordinance opening Locust street, from Stevens to Shingiss streets; read and laid over. Ordinance establishing the width of North street; read and passed finally. Ordinance for grading and paving of Thirty-third street; also Twenty-fifth streets; also grading and paving of Mulberry alley, from Sixtieth street to Swinepart's line; all of which were passed finally. Reports of viewers on Harrison street; majority report approved. Bills of viewers on various streets, amounting to $490, were approved. Report of viewers on the opening of Denny street; approved.

NEW SURVEY PLANS.

Mr. Oliver, Jr., presented the report of the Survey Committee with plans which were disposed of as follows:

Plan of new grade on Fifth avenue, which was adopted.

Plan of extension of Webster avenue. Approved.

Plan of Hazelwood avenue, and Frank street Cemetery, Stanton, and Mowry avenues, all of which were approved.

Mr. Oliver also presented an ordinance for the widening of Iowa street. Passed finally.

Mr. Sims called up an ordinance for opening of Webster avenue, laid over at last meeting. Referred to Street Committee.

THE CONNELLSVILLE DEPOT.

Mr. Moorhead called up the ordinance granting the Connellsville Railroad Company privilege to erect a depot on the Monongahela wharf. [Previously described in the Gazette.]

Mr. Morgan objected to the ordinance. It would be a nuisance. He did not believe in giving the road the right to possess city property forever. He thought the building as proposed would destroy the wharf so far as the city was concerned. The wharf had been paved at a cost of $20,000, and this would be throwing the ground away.

Mr. Oliver, Jr., favored the ordinance. After some discussion he moved as an amendment to the ordinance a provision requiring the company to pay the first five years an annual rental of $3,000, the next five $4,000, the next five $5,000, the next five $6,000, the next five $8,000 and the last five $10,000, making the lease expire in thirty years, and making the average annual rental $6,000.

Mr. McKelvey moved to suspend the rules and pass the ordinance finally.

Ruled out of order by the Chair.

Council then adjourned.

Amusements.

The lovers of fine music will this week have ample opportunity afforded for the enjoyment of rare feasts, offered by amateur performers of high vocal reputation hereabouts. To-night at St. Paul's Cathedral, the talented choir of the church, aided and assisted by a number of amateur vocalists, and St. Cecelia's brass band, will give a a grand sacred concert. The selections have been made with extreme good taste and care, and as they will be rendered in the immense cathedral, accompanied by the mammoth organ and orchestral instruments, a treat as novel as rare and charming can be anticipated by all who attend. The seats are not reserved.

The Cantata Society, an organization embracing our most talented and accomplished vocalists, most of whom vie in their musical culture and attainments with professional artists, will afford two of their incomparable concerts at Masonic Hall on Thursday and Friday evenings. The programme will present choice and varied selections, solos, duets, trios, quartettes and choruses culled from the sublime productions of the masters, and the popular composers of the day. Each night a different programme will be offered. We feel sure there will be large attendance, inasmuch as the Society has large claims on the cultured and refined element of society for encouragement and support, and besides furnishes vocalizations of decided merit and beauty which are in themselves sufficiently attractive to crowd the hall to its utmost capacity.

At the Academy Carncross & Dixey's celebrated minstrels will hold forth each evening of the week. This company have so often appeared before our communities that we feel that it is hardly necessary to present their claims for public favor in this place. It will suffice to say that they represent the refined cork opera, and depend more on support from the cultivated people than others, ignoring all vulgarisms and presenting truly artistic performances. They number many of the best vocalists in the profession, and offer each evening an entirely new and carefully framed programme. We hope they will receive that encouragement which their merits warrant and that the Academy will be crowded during their stay.

A Church Home Strawberry Festival will be held at the Home, on Fortieth street, above Butler, on Thursday afternoon and evening, June 9th, 1870. Much pleasure is anticipated at the return of this annual festival; and the proceeds derived therefrom being intended for the support and comfort of indigent aged and helpless orphans, the patronage of a generous public is solicited on this occasion. The cars of the Citizens Passenger Railway pass within a short distance of the grounds.

The Farm of Aptongo.

A story of the times of St Cyprian, by the late Rev. J. M. Neale, A. M., Warden of Sackville College, New York. Patt & Amery. For sale by J. W. Pittock; price 75 cents.

This work appeared first in this country in the columns of the "Church Record," selected as not only the best of Dr. Neale's historical tales, but also owing to the manner of its publication in England, that with which American churchmen were the least acquainted. It is now reprinted, for preservation in permanent form, and will prove at once a valuable and cheap accession to the library of every churchman and all others who can enjoy historical sketches of the customs and habits of the primitive Christians, written in a style equally graphic and pleasing.

How to Look Young—Sixteen.—Don't paint or use vile Hair Restorers, but simply apply Hagan's Magnolia Balm upon your face, neck and hands, and use Lyon's Kathairon upon your hair. The Balm makes your complexion pearly, soft and natural, and you can't tell what did it. It removes freckles, tan, sallowness, ring-marks, moth-patches, etc.; and in place of a red, rustic face, you have the marble purity of an exquisite belle. It gives to middle age the bloom of perpetual youth. Add these effects to a splendid head of hair produced by the Kathairon, and a lady has done her best in the way of adornment. Brothers will have no spinster sisters when these articles are around. T-TH-S

The Spring Stock of Henry G. Hale, Merchant Tailor, at corner of Penn avenue and Sixth street, is now large and complete. Monsieur Bonpain continues to preside at the cutting. tf

PLANING MILL MEN
And Others,
TAKE NOTICE!
The undersigned has letters patent of the United States for the improved construction of weather-boarding, inside lining and of wainscoting for houses. The weather-boarding, by this patent improvement, being more particularly intended for vertical use, and combines great durability and beauty of appearance; and it is so constructed as to entirely avoid the use of joint strips, and to prevent water from entering the joint of the gaping or the showing of the joints by the action of the weather on the timber.
Inside lining and wainscoting by this new method are so constructed as to form perfect panels as cheaply as by the ordinary flooring boards alone; thereby preventing the showing of the joints from any cause, and leaving no refuges for bugs.
He has also purchased the patent right of what is commonly known as the "Moulded Weather-boarding."
He has disposed of the following territorial and shop rights in Allegheny county, for both patents, to wit:
To G. A. Mundorff, the right of the territory south of the river in said county.
To McQuewan & Douglass, the right for the First ward, Pittsburgh.
To Hill, Patterson & Co., shop rights for their mill, Sixth ward, Pittsburgh.
To Alex. McClure, for the borough of McKeesport.
To Parker & Paul, for First, Second, Third and Fourth wards, city of Allegheny.
To Reed Brothers, shop right at their mill in Seventh ward, city of Allegheny.
To Dunham, Saint & Co., for the boroughs of Sharpsburg and Etna; also the townships of Shaler and Indiana.
All persons are warned against infringing upon either of said patents, and those wishing to purchase will please call, or address me, at No. 75 Smithfield street, Pittsburgh, Pa.
